Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 1:52 P. M. until 3:00 o'clock Monday afternoon, April 11, 1927.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THURSDAY, April 7, 1927,

The House met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Thomas Bluett) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. George P. Donehoo, offered the following prayer:

Oh God, Thou art the author of all wisdom and of all life of all justice, and we beseech Thee the morning that Thou wouldst accept our thanks for Thy continued care over us. We pray Thee this day to be with those who are sick; be with the Chief Page of this House in his illness. Grant if it be Thy will that next week he and the members of the House who have been called home because of sickness may be back again in their place of service. Watch over and keep those in whose lives we are interested, blessing and guarding and guiding them. Thou lovest them as we do and Thou hast infinite power to do the things which our love would do, but which we cannot do because of lack of power. Keep us and bless us this day, we ask in Thy Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's' proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Dengler, seconded by Mr. Purucker, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, that the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 318 FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. STERLING offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, April 7, 1927.

Resolved, (If the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 318, Printer's Number 609, File Folio 3761, entitled "An act concerning arbitration and to make valid and enforceable written provisions and agreements for the arbitration of disputes in [all] certain contracts including contracts to which the State or any municipal subdivision thereof may be a party regulating the procedure under such provisions and agreements and conferring certain powers and imposing certain duties upon the courts with reference thereto," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

RELATIVE TO UNITED STATES FLAG.

Mr. EARLEY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, April 7, 1927.

Whereas on June 14th, 1777, the CONTINENTAL CONGRESS passed the following resolution:

"Resolved that the Flag of the thirteen United States of America be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the Union be thirteen stars white in a blue field representing a New Constellation."

Whereas with that date and that resolution began the history of the Stars and Stripes as a living effective symbol of our Nationality, and

Whereas the State of Pennsylvania is sentimentally and in fact most directly interested in "Old Glory" it was designed by Pennsylvanians for the Nation and its earliest display was at famed Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, now a National Shrine, and

Whereas June 14th, 1927 will be the 150th Anniversary of the Birthday of the American Flag and this Sesqui-Centennial event in our history deserves general public recognition, and

Whereas various Civic, Educational, Patriotic, Fraternal, Religious and other organizations, which annually observe Flag Day, have planned a Nation-wide Celebration to be known as AMERICAN PATRIOTS' WEEK, June 6th to 14th, 1927 and

Whereas by such occasions it is desired that our pride in American Citizenship will be emphasized, our faith in and devotion to American Institutions strengthened, America permeated with a strong love of country and that all our people may have a re-baptism of Patriotism, it is

Resolved by the House of Representatives, (if the Senate concur) that the Governor of Pennsylvania be respectfully petitioned to issue a formal proclamation calling attention to the approaching 150th Anniversary of the Birthday of Our Flag and to ask Pennsylvania citizens and residents, where possible, to observe June 6th to 14th 1927 as "American Patriots Week" and especially on Flag Day, Tuesday, June 14th, 1927, the 150th Birthday of "Old Glory" that decorations in our National Colors, be made of all homes, stores, offices, factories, clubs, amusement places, public buildings, schools, houses, universities and other buildings and wherever possible the American Flag be displayed and worn as a badge of honor and distinction.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

(18) The term "commission" means the Tri-State Delaware River Commission

ARTICLE III

For the purpose of this compact the order of importance and public value of water shall be (A) domestic and municipal (B) sanitation (C) industry and power and (D) navigation

ARTICLE IV

Subject to the duties and obligations imposed by this compact any administrative department or political subdivision authorized in that behalf by or under the laws of any signatory state or any corporation partnership association or person hereafter so authorized may exercise the rights and privileges herein conferred on such state in conformity with such other terms and conditions as that state may impose and under such further requirements as the commission may prescribe in the exercise of its authority under this compact

ARTICLE V

Subject to the provisions of this compact each signatory state may divert water from any tributary of the Delaware river within that state or from the channel or from both The total quantity which may be diverted by each state in any one calendar year shall not exceed the following

Pennsylvania Three hundred twenty-eight and one-half (328½) billion gallons which total quantity is equivalent to an average of nine hundred (900) million gallons daily

New Jersey Two hundred nineteen (219) billion gallons which total quantity is equivalent to an average of six hundred (600) million gallons daily

New York Two hundred nineteen (219) billion gallons which total quantity is equivalent to an average of six hundred (600) million gallons daily

The quantities of water herein authorized to be diverted are in addition to all quantities of water which have heretofore been lawfully diverted by the normal operation of all works existing and in actual operation within each state in the Delaware drainage basin when this compact becomes effective and the future diversion of water in quantities not exceeding those heretofore lawfully diverted by the normal operation of such works shall not be charged against the total quantity which may be diverted under authority of this article by that signatory state in which said works are located

ARTICLE VI

Diversions allowable under Article V may be made by each signatory state from any tributary of the Delaware river within that state for use either within or without the Delaware drainage basin subject to the following restrictions and limitations

(1) Authority for every development shall be obtained and every development shall be carried out under the laws of the state in which it is located

(2) On every tributary from which a diversion is made there shall be provided sufficient storage to insure the reserve flows required by this article

(3) Within the Upper Basin at all times during the months of July August September and October there shall be released from storage and delivered into the tributary or into the channel of the Delaware river above the point at which the tributary enters said channel a reserve flow equal to forty-five hundredths (0.45) of a cubic foot per second for each square mile of drainage area above the point of storage during the remainder of the year such a reserve flow shall be maintained only on the days when the flow from the drainage area above the point of storage is less than forty-five hundredths (0.45) of a cubic foot per second for each square mile of drainage area above the point of storage

(4) Within the Lower Basin there shall at all times be released from storage and delivered into the tributary or into the channel of the Delaware river above the point at which the tributary enters said channel a reserve flow equal to fifteen hundredths (0.15) of a cubic foot per second for each square mile of drainage area above the point of storage

ARTICLE VII

Diversions allowable under Article V may be made by each signatory state from the channel of the Delaware river for use either within or without the Delaware drainage basin subject to the following restrictions and limitations

(1) All diversions shall be made in accordance with schedules which shall be prescribed from time to time by the commission In the Upper Basin said schedules shall allow to each diverting state at least one-third of the flow over and above the reserve flow requirements in the Lower Basin said schedules shall allow to each diverting state at least one-half of the flow over and above the reserve flow requirements Any schedule prescribed by the commission authorizing the diversion of more than one-third of the divertible flow in the Upper Basin or of more than one-half of the divertible flow in the Lower Basin shall not operate to create an irrevocable right to continue such excess diversion nor to prevent the commission from at any time modifying or changing any such schedule to allow to each diverting state in the Upper Basin only one-third of the divertible flow or to allow to each diverting state in the Lower Basin only one half of the divertible flow or to prevent the commission from at any time modifying or changing any such schedule in any other manner that may be necessary to meet the conditions existing at the time such change or modification is made

(2) In the absence of storage at the place where the diversion is accomplished no water shall be diverted from the channel within the Upper Basin unless the flow in the channel is in excess of a reserve flow of forty-five hundredths (0.45) of a cubic foot per second per square mile of drainage area above the point of diversion In every diversion in the Upper Basin made from a storage reservoir lying wholly or in part within the channel a reserve flow equal to forty-five hundredths (0.45) of a cubic foot per second per square mile of drainage area above the point of storage shall be maintained at the point of storage at all times when the flow in the channel from the drainage area above the point of storage is greater than that amount when the flow in the channel from the drainage area above the point of storage is less than forty-five hundredths (0.45) of a cubic foot per second per square mile then a reserve flow equal to the flow from the drainage area above the point of storage shall be maintained in the channel at the point of storage

(3) In the absence of storage at the place where the diversion is accomplished no water shall be diverted from the channel within the Lower Basin unless the flow in the channel is in excess of a reserve flow of twenty-four hundredths (0.24) of a cubic foot per second per square mile of drainage area above the point of diversion In every diversion in the Lower Basin made from a storage reservoir lying wholly or in part within the channel a reserve flow equal to twenty-four hundredths (0.24) of a cubic foot per second per square mile of drainage area above the point of storage shall be maintained at the point of storage at all times when the flow in the channel from the drainage area above the point of storage is greater than that amount when the flow in the channel from the drainage area above the point of storage is less than twenty-four hundredths (0.24) of a cubic foot per second per square mile then a reserve flow equal to the flow from the drainage area above the point of storage shall be maintained in the channel at the point of storage

(4) The reserve flows required under this article at every point of diversion or of storage shall be in addition to water in transit which may be flowing in the channel at such point

(5) Every storage reservoir lying wholly or partly within the channel of the Delaware river shall at all times be operated so as not to interfere with or retard the free passage of water in transit of the required reserve flows and except as otherwise permitted by the schedules prescribed by the commission of that part of the flow in the said channel which may not be diverted by the state under the authorization of which state said storage reservoir was constructed

ARTICLE VIII

Each signatory state may authorize an appropriate department to designate as water in transit for the use of that state any or all water that has been or may hereafter be developed by storage for any purpose by or under the authorization of such state either on any tributary within said state or on the channel of the Delaware river All water so designated shall be known as "water in transit" and may be permitted to flow into and down the channel of the Delaware river All water which has been so designated shall be considered as having been diverted at the point of storage where it was developed and shall be charged against the total quantity of water which may be diverted by the designating state under the authority of Article V

Water in transit may be removed from the channel of the Delaware river by or under the authority of the designating state The daily rate at which water in transit may be removed from the channel shall not exceed the daily rate at which it is delivered and no greater quantity of such water may be removed than shall have been delivered into the said channel All water in transit shall be subject to the reserve flow requirements of Articles VI and VII which apply at the point of storage where said water was developed In the case of water in transit from any development completed prior to the date when this compact becomes effective said reserve flow requirements shall so long as the existing authorization for such development continues in effect apply only at times when water in transit from such development is actually flowing in the channel of the Delaware river

Every designation of water in transit made under the authority of this article shall be evidenced by the filing with the commission of a declaration setting forth the contemplated uses of said water and any such designation may at any time be withdrawn or amended without prejudice to its subsequent amendment or renewal Notice of every amendment or renewal shall be given to the commission through the filing of a declaration the previsions of which declaration shall not become effective until two years from the date of filing thereof unless the commission shall after hearing fix an earlier date

ARTICLE IX

With the approval of the commission each signatory state may build dams entirely or partly across the channel of the Delaware river upon such terms and conditions as the commission after hearing may prescribe

All such dams shall be built so as to conform to the requirements relating to physical construction and safety in the state or states in which they are located and shall at all times be operated so as not to interfere with any diversion that is in accordance with schedules prescribed by the commission nor with any water in transit

ARTICLE X

Notice of every development for diversion from any tributary shall be filed with the commission prior to the beginning of construction by the state in which the development is located or by the holder of the authorization for such development said notice shall include a statement of the quantity of water proposed to be diverted the purpose of such diversion and a copy of the authority for the development

ARTICLE XI

To evidence that the provisions of this compact are being complied with there shall be installed and maintained in connection with every development which comes under the provisions of this compact adequate and suitable equipment for measuring all necessary quantities and rates of water flow Records of all water flows in connection with such developments shall be kept and furnished to the commission as the said commission may require Said equipment shall be installed and maintained and said records shall be kept and furnished by the state or by the holder of the authorization for every such development

ARTICLE XII

No water from the Delaware drainage basin shall be diverted for use outside the boundaries of the states signatory to this compact Except by legislative act no signatory state may give grant or dispose of to another signatory state or to the holder of an authorization therefrom any water allotted to it or developed by it under the provisions of this compact The joint exercise by or under the authority of two or more of the signatory states of any right under this compact is hereby authorized

ARTICLE VIII

The signatory states recognizing the importance of conserving the sanitary quality of the waters flowing in the channel of the Delaware river so that these waters may be used as sources of domestic and municipal water supplies agree to co-operate in carrying out a policy for maintaining said waters in a sanitary condition at least equal to that which obtains as of the date when this compact becomes effective

ARTICLE XV

The beneficial effects of forest covered areas on the regularization of stream flow with attendant greater potential use of streams for domestic industrial navigation and other purposes are recognized by the signatory states Each signatory state agrees to adhere to a policy covering the establishment and maintenance of an adequate forest cover in the Delaware drainage basin and the maintenance of the highest practicable standards of protection from fire on these lands

ARTICLE XIV

Each signatory state in the exercise of any right under this compact may take and condemn any property necessary for the construction maintenance and operation of any dam in or across the channel of the Delaware river Each signatory state may also take and condemn any rights to the use of or in water the taking or condemnation of which rights is necessary to effect any allowable diversion made under this compact from any tributary or from the channel of the Delaware river The power of condemnation herein conferred shall be exercised in accordance with the laws of the state in which the property or the rights to be taken or condemned are located Any such property and rights though devoted to a public use may be taken and condemned in favor of any public use higher in the order of importance set forth in Article III

ARTICLE XVI

All damage to persons or property resulting from the exercise of any rights under this compact shall be determined under the rule of damages in accordance with the procedure and in such manner as is provided by the law of the state in which the damages are suffered The damages suffered in the State of Pennsylvania shall be ascertained recovered and paid as provided by the forty-first section of the act approved April twenty-ninth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four (Pamphlet Laws seventy-three) and the amendments and supplements thereto or any substitute therefor in effect when the development is authorized The damages suffered in the State of New York or in the State of New Jersey shall be ascertained recovered and paid as provided by any general or other now existing act applying thereto or any substitute for the same in effect when the development is authorized The court or courts which have jurisdiction of the subject matter in the respective states shall have jurisdiction of the person of every party in interest for the purpose of notice summons and hearing throughout all three signatory states

ARTICLE XVII

Any property of a signatory state or of the holder of an authorization of such state acquired in the exercise of any right or privilege under this compact which is located in any other signatory state shall be subject to taxation as private property under the general laws of the state in which it is located

ARTICLE XVIII

Nothing in any existing treaty or compact between any two of the signatory states shall be modified or changed or invalidated by anything herein contained except in so far as the same is repugnant to any provision of this compact

ARTICLE XIX

The Tri-State Delaware River Commission is hereby created as a body corporate to consist of not more than three members from each of the signatory states Each state may by appropriate legislation provide for the designation appointment and tenure of its members Until such time as a signatory state shall by legislation otherwise provide the Governor of such state is hereby directed to designate an appropriate officer or employee and may appoint not more than two other persons to represent said state as members of the Tri-State Delaware River Commission

Each signatory state shall have one vote in the commission Every decision authorization or approval of the commission shall require a unanimous vote of the states entitled to vote thereon On matters pertaining only to the Lower Basin the State of New York shall have no vote

Every decision authorization or approval rendered shall be accompanied by a certificate of the commissions that the same is in their judgment in the public interest and such certificate shall state the reasons on which the decision authorization or approval is based

The powers and duties of the commission in addition to those hereinbefore set forth shall be

(1) To make rules and regulations for the organization and the conduct of its business

(2) To report annually to the governors for the information of the legislatures of the signatory states as to the developments under the terms of this compact and as to such other matters as may come within the purview of the commission

(3) To report in like manner at intervals of not more than five years as to the existing and reasonably prospective needs of the signatory states and the extent to which and the manner in which each signatory state has exercised its rights under this compact

(4) To observe the operation of all developments to make such orders in writing after hearing as may be necessary to secure compliance with those provisions of this compact which are within the jurisdiction of the commission and to institute any appropriate action or proceeding at law or in equity to enforce compliance with such orders and with the terms and conditions imposed in any decision authorization or approval made by it

(5) To require by order in writing compliance with Article XI

(6) To make modify and change the schedules referred to in Article VII

(7) To make such examinations as may be necessary to ascertain the quantities of water heretofore lawfully diverted by the normal operation of all works existing and in actual operation when this compact becomes effective

(8) The commission or any member thereof or any employee or other person duly authorized thereby is hereby empowered to enter without let or hindrance upon the lands

and property upon which any development is being constructed operated or maintained under this compact Each state through its appropriate departments shall co-operate with the commission in obtaining such data information and records as may be necessary in the performance of its duties

(9) Whenever by this compact provision is made for action by the commission after hearing notice of such hearing shall be given to the governor of each state at least ten (10) days before the date set for such hearing

(10) The attorney general of each signatory state or a deputy or assistant shall serve as the legal adviser of the commissioners representing that state

(11) The commission is authorized to provide suitable offices and conveniences for the transaction of its business and to employ such technical and clerical assistance as may be necessary to enable it to carry out the duties imposed by this compact The expenses of the commission shall be paid share and share alike from funds provided by each of the signatory states in such manner as the laws of the signatory states shall prescribe

ARTICLE XX

Notwithstanding anything contained in this compact each state may institute any action or proceeding at law or in equity for the enforcement or protection of its rights or the rights of its citizens accruing under this compact or otherwise

ARTICLE XXI

Section 26 Nomination by Nomination papers All candidates for the council shall be nominated by nomination papers in accordance with the provisions of general law governing the nomination of independent candidates by nomination papers for municipal elections except that each candidate for the council shall be nominated by separate nomination papers and no elector shall sign the nomination paper of more than one such candidate

Section 27 Separate Ballot Councilmanic shall be voted for on a separate councilmanic ballot which shall be used for no other purpose

Section 28 Party Names Designations of party or policy to be printed on the ballot after the names of the candidates for the council shall be determined by the candidates and set forth in their nomination papers except that the name of a party entitled to participate in the fall primary preceding the election in question shall not be used alone without the consent of the borough committee or other borough governing body if any of the party in question If the name of such party is used alone in the nomination papers of any candidate a certificate of endorsement of the borough committee or other governing body if any of the party in question signed by its chairman and secretary shall be filed with the county commissioners with the candidate's nomination papers The councilmanic ballot shall not provide any means of voting a straight party ticket except as indicated in the Directions to Voters set forth in Section 29

Section 29 Directions to Voters On the councilmanic ballots the following directions to voters shall be substituted for those prescribed for municipal elections by general law

Directions to Voters

Put the figure 1 in the square opposite the name of your first choice You may also express second third and other choices by putting the figure 2 opposite the name of your second choice the figure 3 opposite the name of your third choice and so on You may express thus as many choices as you please without any regard to the number being elected

Your ballot will be counted for your first choice if it can help elect him If it cannot help elect him it will be transferred to the highest of your other choices whom it can help

You cannot hurt the chances of any candidate you prefer by marking lower choices for others The more choices you express the surer you are to make your ballot count for one of them But do not feel obliged to express more choices than you really have

Do not put the same figure opposite more than one name

If you spoil this ballot return it to the election officer in charge of the ballots and get another from him

Section 30 Form of ballot Except as herein otherwise provided the ballot used for the election of councilmen shall be in substantially the form prescribed by general law for municipal elections

Section 31 Preparation for Elections Previous to every election of the council the court of common pleas one (1) shall designate a central counting place for the whole borough where all councilmanic ballots shall be brought together and counted publicly two (2) shall employ a sufficient number of qualified assistants to count such ballots and three (3) shall make all other necessary arrangements for the counting of such ballots

Section 32 Assembling the Ballots from the Election Districts When the polls are closed and before the ballot box is opened the election officers in each election district shall announce and record on the outside of a councilmanic return envelope to be furnished them by the county commissioners the number of councilmanic ballots issued to voters as shown by the ballot stubs and the number of such ballots applied and returned by voters and cancelled Immediately after the ballot box is opened they shall sort out all of the councilmanic ballots from the other ballots used at the election and without making any tabulation of the votes cast for councilmen shall enclose them in said councilmanic return envelope and seal the same The spoiled cancelled ballots the unused ballots and the ballot stubs shall be replaced in the ballot box with the other ballots used at the election The judge of election shall deliver the said councilmanic return envelope containing the councilmanic ballots to the person authorized by the court of common pleas to receive the same at the central counting place in such manner and within such period of time as the court of common pleas shall direct

Section 33 Rules for Counting Ballots for the Election of Councilmen At such time as the court of common pleas shall direct but beginning not later than noon of the Friday next following the election the councilmanic ballots shall be counted under its supervision or under the supervision of a person or persons designated by it for the purpose in the central place designated by it for the entire borough and according to the following rules

(One) The ballots in the councilmanic return envelope from each election district shall first be counted separately and their number recorded

(Two) The ballots shall then be sorted according to the first choices marked on them

(Three) As the ballots are sorted those received by each candidate shall be stamped or marked with serial numbers in the order in which they are received

(Four) If a ballot does not clearly show which candidate the voter prefers to all others or if it contains any word mark or other sign apparently intended to identify the voter it shall be set aside as invalid Every ballot not thus invalid shall be counted according to the intent of the voter so far as that can be clearly ascertained whether marked according to the directions printed on it or not

(Five) If the consecutive numerical order of the figures on a ballot is broken by the omission of one or more figures the order of the figures on the ballot shall be taken as the voter's order of preference without regard to the figure or figures omitted

(Six) When all the ballots have been sorted according to first choices the number of valid ballots cast for each candidate as first choice and the total number of valid ballots shall be determined

(Seven) The total number of valid ballots shall then be divided by a number greater by one than the number of members to be elected The next whole number larger than the resulting quotient shall be the quota sufficient to elect a member

(Eight) All candidates whose first-choice ballots equal or exceed the quota in number shall be declared elected

(Nine) As many transferable ballots as each elected candidate has in excess of the quota shall then be transferred from him to other candidates first the surplus ballots of the candidate highest on the poll then the surplus ballots of the candidate next highest and so on

A "transferable" ballot from which the next choice of the voter for some continuing candidate can be clearly ascertained A "Continuing candidate" is a candidate as yet neither elected nor defeated

(Ten) The particular ballots of a candidate to be transferred as his surplus shall be those which have received certain serial numbers determined as follows

(a) The total number of ballots which the candidate has received (say for example 1,060) shall be divided by the number he has received above the quota (say 100) The quotient thus determined (10 in the example given) disregarding any remainder shall be used as the basis of selection as hereinafter provided

(b) The ballots taken for transfer shall be those which are transferable and whose serial numbers are the smallest exact multiples of the quotient (10 20 30 40 etc in the example)

(c) If there are not enough transferable ballots whose serial numbers are exact multiples of the quotient enough of the transferable ballots whose serial numbers are one less than the smallest exact multiples of the quotient (9 19 29 39 etc in the example) shall be taken also If there are not enough of these transferable ballots whose serial numbers are two less than the smallest exact multiples of the quotient (8 18 28 38 etc in the example) shall be taken also and so on until the entire surplus has been transferred

(d) If all the candidate's transferable ballots are taken for transfer without reducing his total to the quota all his remaining ballots shall be left to his credit

(Eleven) In the transfer of a surplus each ballot shall be transferred to the candidate indicated on it as next choice among the unelected candidates

(Twelve) After the transfer of all surpluses or if no candidate received a surplus after the count of first choices every candidate who has to his credit fewer ballots than the number of signatures required to nominate him shall be declared defeated provided however that if this provision would reduce the number of undefeated candidates below the number to be elected it shall not be applied

(Thirteen) All the ballots of the candidates thus defeated shall be transferred together each to the candidate indicated on it as next choice among the continuing candidates Any ballot which does not clearly indicate any candidate as next choice among the continuing candidates shall be set aside as exhausted

(Fourteen) After all the ballots if any of the candidates defeated under the rule twelve have been transferred the one candidate who is then lowest on the poll shall be declared defeated and all his ballots transferred in the same way Thereupon the candidate who is then lowest shall be defeated and his ballots transferred Thus lowest candidates shall be declared defeated one after another all the ballots of each being transferred before any other candidate is defeated

(Fifteen) Whenever the total number of ballots credited to any candidate becomes equal to the quota he shall immediately be declared elected and no ballots in excess of the quota shall be transferred to him

(Sixteen) If when a candidate is to be declared defeated two or more candidates are tied at the bottom of the poll that one of the tied candidates shall be declared defeated who was credited with fewest ballots just before the last transfer of ballots If two or more of the tied candidates were tied at that stage of the count also the second tie shall be decided if necessary by referring similarly to the standing of the candidates just before the last transfer of ballots before that This principle shall be applied successively as many times as amy be necessary a tie shown at any stage of the count being decided by referring to the standing of the tied candidates just before the last preceding transfer of ballots

(Seventeen) Any tie not otherwise provided for shall be decided by lot

(Eighteen) If at any time candidates to the number to be elected have received the quota any transfer of ballots in progress when the last quota was reached shall be completed but immediately thereafter all continuing candidates shall be declared defeated and the election shall be at an end

(Nineteen) If at any time all ballots of any defeated candidates have been transferred and it is impossible to defeat another candidate without reducing the continuing candidates shall be declared elected and the election shall be at an end

(Twenty) A record of the count shall be kept in such form as to show after each sorting or transfer of ballots the number thereby credited to each candidate the number thereby found exhausted the total for each candidate the total exhausted and the total number of valid ballots found by adding the totals of all candidates and the total found exhausted

(Twenty-one) If the total number of valid ballots found after any transfer is not the same as the totals found previously the error shall be found and corrected before the count proceeds

(Twenty-two) Every ballot that is transferred from one candidate to another shall be stamped or marked so that its entire course from candidate to candidate can be conveniently traced

(Twenty-three) If in correcting an error any ballots are re-sorted or re-transferred every ballot shall be made to take the same course that it took in the original count unless the correction of an error requires its taking a different course These principles shall apply also to any recount except for the filling of a vacancy which may be made after the original count has been completed

Section 34 Recesses for Counting Staff The counting staff shall proceed with reasonable expedition in the counting of the councilmanic ballots but may take recesses or adjourn from day to day at the discretion of the court of common pleas or the person or persons delegated by it to take charge of the count The court of common pleas shall make proper provision for the safekeeping of the ballots while the counting is not in progress

Section 35 Supervision Every facility for witnessing the count that is consistent with good order shall be given to the public and to representatives of the public press Special facilities including the privilege of mingling with the counting staff and examining any of the ballots closely shall be given to any person who may be appointed in writing as their representative for the purpose by at least three of the candidates whose names are printed on the ballot and who have not shared in the appointment of any other person for the purpose

Section 36 Preservation of Ballots The ballots cast at each election of the council shall be preserved by the court of common pleas until the term of the members elected thereby has expired The ballots credited to each successful candidate at the end of the election shall be kept separate from the rest as the ballots which elected him

Section 37 Time of Taking Office The members of the council shall take office on the first Monday in January next following their election and shall serve until their successors are elected and take office

Section 38 Recount to Fill Vacancies If a vacancy occurs in the council it shall be certified to the court of common pleas by the secretary or clerk of the council and shall be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by a public recount under the supervision of the court of common pleas of the ballots by which it was filled at the last regular election of the council This recount shall be conducted according to the following rules

(One) All choices marked for members of the council or for candidates who have become ineligible or have expressed to the court of common pleas in writing their desire to withdraw shall be disregarded

(Two) The ballots shall be sorted each to the highest choice marked on it for any of the eligible condidates

(Three) If any candidate has to his credit more than half of the balance which show any preference among these candidates he shall be declared elected to the vacant place

(Four) If no candidate has to his credit more than half of the ballots which show such a preference every candidate who has no ballots to his credit shall be declared defeated

(Five) Thereupon the remaining candidate lowest on the poll shall be declared defeated and all his ballots transferred each to the candidate indicated on it as next choice among the undefeated candidates

(Six) Thus lowest candidates shall be declared defeated one after another and all their ballots transferred until some candidate is credited with more ballots than all the other undefeated candidates together

(Seven) As soon as one candidate is creditd with more ballots than all the other undefeated candidates together he shall be declared elected to the vacant place

(Eight) Except as herein otherwise provided and except that the rules for assembling and checking the ballots and those regarding the quota and surplus ballots may be disregarded the recount shall be governed by the provisions for the original count

(Nine) If two or more vacancies occur at the same time they shall be filled separately in the order in which they are certified to the court of common pleas

Section 39 Vacancies for Which There are No Candidates If a vacancy occurs for which no regularly nominated candidates remain the council shall by a majority vote of the remaining members appoint a qualified person to fill it for the remainder of the unexpired term

PROCEDURE FOR REPEAL

Section 40 Repeal by Popular Vote Any borough which adopts the manager plan of government with proportional representation may repeal it at any general or municipal election thereafter by the same procedure as that prescribed for its adoption The question printed on the ballot in such a case shall be "Shall the manager plan of government with proportional representation be discontinued in the borough of .....?"

Section 41 First Election After Repeal In case the manager plan of government with proportional representation is repealed the next municipal election thereafter shall be conducted for the offices and according to the provisions which would be in effect if the borough were at that election coming for the first time under the provisions of general law for boroughs of its class

Section 42 Termination of Manager Plan The officers so elected shall take office on the first Monday in January next following their election at which time the term of the borough manager and of all other officers whose offices have been created under the provisions of this act shall terminate and thereafter the borough shall be governed as provided by general law for boroughs of its class The council shall have power to provide for the transition by ordinance

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 43 General Laws Not to Apply No law enacted hereafter shall affect the government of boroughs which have adopted the manager plan of government with proportional representation as hereinbefore provided unless such law includes such boroughs specifically in its terms A general reference to all boroughs or to boroughs of a class shall not be deemed to include boroughs which have adopted the manager plan of government under the provisions of this act

Section 44 Partial Invalidity Legislative Intent It is the intention of the General Assembly that if this act cannot take effect in its entirety because of the judgment of any court of competent jurisdiction holding unconstitutional any part or parts thereof the remaining provisions of the act shall be given full force and effect as completely as if the part or parts held unconstitutional had not been included herein

Section 45 Inconsistent Acts Repealed All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed in so far as they are inconsistent

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1329, as follows:

ARTICLE I

PROCEDURE FOR ADOPTION

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in pursuance of the authority granted by section one of article fifteen of the Constitution any borough may adopt proportional representation for the election of its council by the following procedure

Section 2 Initiation of Proceeding to Adopt Proportional Representation If the council of any borough by an ordinance passed by a majority vote of its members and filed with the county commissioners of the proper county or a petition signed by qualified electors of the borough equal in number to at least ten per centum of the total number of electors registered to the preceding general or municipal election and filed with the county commissioners shall so request the county commissioners shall cause to be placed on the ballot at the next general or municipal election occurring at least sixty days after the filing of the ordinance or petition the following question "Shall the council of the borough of ..... be elected hereafter by proportional representation?"

Section 3 Form of question The county commissioners shall cause the question so provided for to be printed upon the ballots to be used in said borough in the form and manner provided by the laws governing general and municipal elections

Section 4 Effect of Affirmative Vote If a majority of the qualified electors voting on the question in said borough shall vote in the affirmative then at the next municipal election in every second year thereafter all the councilmen of the borough shall be elected by proportional representation as hereinafter provided Councilmen so elected shall take office on the first Monday in January next following their election and the term of office of all councilmen previously in office shall terminate at that time

Section 5 Conduct of Elections Except as herein otherwise provided all elections provided for in this act shall be conducted in accordance with the laws governing general and municipal elections When a vote is taken in any borough on the adoption or rejection of proportional representation the election officers shall make return of the votes to the prothonotary of the proper county and the prothonotary shall certify the result thereof to council of the borough and to the Secretary of the Commonwealth

Section 6 Notice of Election At least thirty days' notice of each election for the adoption or rejection of proportional representation shall be given by proclamation of the chief burgess A copy of such proclamation shall be posted at each polling place of the borough and shall be published in at least one newspaper of general circulation in the borough once each week for the four successive weeks prior to the election

Section 7 Expenses paid by Borough Any expenses incurred in connection with any proceedings under this act shall when not otherwise provided by law be paid from the borough treasury and the appropriating authority of the borough shall provide therefor

ARTICLE II

PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION PROVISIONS

Section 8 Election at Large The council of any borough which adopts proportional representation as hereinbefore provided shall be elected from the borough at large according to the following regulations

Section 9 Number of Members The council of any borough which adopts proportional representation shall consist of seven members

Section 10 Nomination by Nomination Papers All candidates for the council shall be nominated by nomination papers in accordance with the provisions of general law governing the nomination of independent candidates by nomination papers for municipal elections except that each candidate for the council shall be nominated by separate nomination papers and no elector shall sign the nomination paper of more than one such candidate

Section 11 Separate Ballot Councilmen shall be voted for on a separate councilmanic ballot which shall be used for no other purpose

Section 12 Party Names Designation of party or policy to be printed on the ballot after the names of the candidates for the council shall be determined by the candidates and set forth in their nomination papers except that the name of a party entitled to participate in the fall primary preceding the election in question shall not be used alone without the consent of the borough committee or other borough governing body if any of the party in question If the name of any such party is used alone in the nomination papers of any candidate a certificate of endorsement of the borough committee or other borough governing body if any of the party in question signed by its chairman and secretary shall be filed with the county commissioners with the candidate's nomination papers The councilmanic ballot shall not provide any means of voting a straight party ticket except as indicated in the Directions to Voters set forth in Section thirteen

Section 13 Directions to Voters On the councilmanic ballots the following directions to voters shall be substituted for those prescribed for municipal elections by general law

DIRECTIONS TO VOTERS

Put the figure 1 in the square opposite the name of your first choice You may also express second third and other choices by putting the figure 2 opposite the name of your third choice the figure 3 opposite the name of your third choice and so on You may express thus as many choices as you please without any regard to the number being elected

Your ballot will be counted for your first choice if it can help elect him If it cannot help elect him it will be transferred to the highest of your other choices whom it can help

You cannot hurt the chances of any candidate you prefer by marking lower choices for others The more choices you express the surer you are to make your ballot count for one of them But do not feel obliged to express more choices than you really have

If you spoil this ballot return it to the election officer in charge of the ballots and get another from him

Section 14 Form of Ballot Except as herein otherwise provided the ballot used for the election of councilmen shall be in substantially the form prescribed by general law for municipal elections

Section 15 Preparations for Elections Previous to every election of the council the court of common pleas one (1) shall designate a central counting place for the whole borough where all councilmanic ballots shall be brought together and counted publicly two (2) shall employ a sufficient number of qualified assistants to count such ballots and three (3) shall make all other necessary arrangements for the counting of such ballots

Section 16 Assembling the Ballots from the Election Districts When the polls are closed and before the ballot box is opened the election officers in each district shall announce and record on the outside of a councilmanic return envelope to be furnished them by the county commissioners the number of councilmanic ballots issued to voters as shown by the ballot stubs and the number of such ballots spoiled and returned by the voters and cancelled Immediately after the ballot box is opened they shall sort out all of the councilmanic ballots from the other ballots used at the election and without making any tabulation of the votes cast for councilmen shall enclose them in said councilmanic return envelope and seal the same The spoiled cancelled ballots the unused ballots and the ballot stubs shall be replaced in the ballot box with the other ballots used at the election The judge of election shall deliver the said councilmanic return envelope containing the councilmanic ballots to the person authorized by the court of common pleas to receive the same at the central counting place in such manner and within such period of time as the court of common pleas shall direct

Section 17 Rules for Counting Ballots for the Election of Councilmen At such time as the court of common pleas shall direct but beginning not later than noon of the Friday next following the election the councilmanic ballots shall be counted under its supervision or under the supervision of a person or persons designated by it for the purpose in the central counting place designated by it for the entire borough and according to the following rules

(One) The ballots in the councilmanic return envelope from each election district shall first be counted separately and their number recorded

(Two) The ballots shall then be sorted according to the first choices marked on them

(Three) As the ballots are sorted those received by each candidate shall be stamped or marked with serial numbers in the order in which they are received

(Four) If a ballot does not clearly show which candidate the voter prefers to all others or if it contains any word mark or other sign apparently intended to identify the voter it shall be set aside as invalid Every ballot not thus invalid shall be counted according to the intent of the voter so far as that can be celarly ascertained whether marked according to the directions printed on it or not

(Five) If the consecutive numerical order of the figures on a ballot is broken by the omission of one or more figures the order of the figures on the ballot shall be taken as the voter's order of preference without regard to the figure or figures omitted

(Six) When all the ballots have been sorted according to first choices the number of valid ballots cast for each candidate as first choice and the total number of valid ballots shall be determined

(Seven) The total number of valid ballots shall then be divided by a number greater by one than the number of members to be elected The next whole number larger than the resulting quotient shall be the quota sufficient to elect a member

(Eight) All candidates whose first-choice ballots equal or exceed the quota in number shall be declared elected

(Nine) As many transferable ballots as each elected candidate has in excess of the quota shall then be transferred from him to other candidates first the surplus ballots of the candidates highest on the poll then the surplus ballots of the candidate next highest and so on

A "transferable" ballot is a ballot from which the next choice of the voter for some continuing candidate can be clearly ascertained A "continuing candidate" is a candidate as yet neither elected nor defeated

(Ten) The particular ballots of a candidate to be transferred as his surplus shall be those which have received certain serial numbers determined as follows

(a) The total number of ballots which the candidate has received (say for example one thousand sixty) shall be divided by the number he has received above the quota (say one hundred) The quotient thus determined (ten in the example given) disregarding any remainder shall be used as the basis of selection as hereinafter provided

(b) The ballots taken for transfer shall be those which are transferable and whose serial numbers are the smallest exact multiples of the quotient (10 20 30 40 etc in the example)

(c) If there are not enough transferable ballots whose serial number are exact multiples of the quotient enough of the transferable ballots whose serial numbers are one less than the smallest exact multiples of the quotient (9 19 29 39 etc in the example) shall be taken also if theer are not enough of these transferable ballots whose serial number are two less than the smallest exact multiples of the quotient (8 18 28 38 etc in the example) shall be taken also and so on until the entire surplus has been transferred

(d) If all the candidate's transferable ballots are taken for transfer without reducing his total to the quota all his remaining ballots shall be left to his credit

(Eleven) In the transfer of a surplus each ballot shall be transferred to the candidate indicated on it as next choice among the unelected candidates

(Twelve) After the transfer of all surpluses or if no candidate received a surplus after the count of first choices every candidate who has to his credit fewer ballots than the number of signatures required to nominate him shall be declared defeated provided however that if this provision would reduce the number of undefeated candidates below the number to be elected it shall not be applied

(Thirteen) All the ballots of the candidates thus defeated shall be transferred together each to the candidate indicated on it as next choice among the continuing candidates Any ballot which does not clearly indicate any candidate as next choice among the continuing candidates shall be set aside as exhausted

(Fourteen) After all the ballots if any of the candidates defeated under rule twelve have been transferred the one candidate who is then lowest on the poll shall be declared dfeated and all his ballots transferred in the same way Thereupon the candidate who is then lowest shall be defeated and his ballots transferred Thus lowest candidates shall be decleared defeated one after another all the ballots of each being transferred before any other candidate is defeated

(Fifteen) Whenever the total number of ballots credited to any candidate become equal to the quota he shall immediately be declared elected and no ballots in excess of the quota shall be transferred to him

(Sixteen) If when a candidate is to be declared defeated two or more candidates are tied at the bottom of the poll that one of the tied candidates shall be declared defeated who was credited with fewest ballots just before the last transfer of ballots If two or more of the tied candidates were tied at that stage of the count also the second ties hall be decided if necessary by referring similarly to the standing of candidates just before the last transfer of ballots before that This principle shall be applied successively as many times as may be necessary a tie shown at any stage of the count being decided by referring to the standing of the tied candidates just before the last preceding transfer of ballots

(Seventeen) Any tie not otherwise provided for shall be decided by lot

(Eighteen) If at any time candidates to the number to be elected have received the quota any transfer of ballots in progress when the last quota was reached shall be completed but immediately thereafter all continuing candidates shall be declared defeated and the election shall be at an end

(Nineteen) If at any time all ballots of any defeated candidate have been transferred and it is impossible to defeat another candidate without reducing the continuing candidates below the number still to be elected all the continuing candidates shall be declared elected and the election shall be at an end

(Twenty) A record of the count shall be kept in such form as to show after each sorting or transfer of ballots the number thereby credited to each candidate the number thereby found exhausted the total for each candidate the total found exhausted and the total number of valid ballots found by adding the totals of all candidates and the total found exhausted

(Twenty-one) If the total number of valid ballots found after any transfer is not the same as the totals found previously the error shall be found and corrected before the count proceeds

(Twenty-two) Every ballot that is transferred from one candidate to another shall be stamped or marked so that its entire course from candidate to candidate can be conveniently traced

(Twenty-three) If in correcting an error any ballots are re-sorted or re-transferred every ballot shall be made to take the same course that it took in the original count unless the correction of an error requires its taking a different course These principles shall apply also to any recount except for the filling of a vacancy which may be made after the original count has been completed

Section 18 Recesses for Counting Staff The counting staff shall proceed with reasonable expedition in the counting of the councilmanic ballots but may take recesses at the discretion of the court of common pleas or the person or persons delegated by it to take charge of the count The court of common pleas shall make proper provision for the safekeeping of the ballots while the counting is not in progress

Section 19 Supervision Every facility for witnessing the count that is consistent with good order shall be given to the public and to representatives of the public press Special facilities including privilege of mingling with the counting staff and examining any of the ballots closely shall be given to any person who may be appointed in writing as their representative for the purpose by at least three of the candidates whose names are printed on the ballot and who have not shared in the appointment of any other person for the purpose

Section 20 Preservation of Ballots The ballots cast at each election of the council shall be preserved by the court of common pleas until the term of the members elected thereby has expired The ballots credited to each successful candidate at the end of the election shall be kept separate from the rest as the ballots which elected him

Section 21 Recount to Fill Vacancies If a vacancy occurs in the council it shall be certified to the court of common pleas by the secretary or clerk of the council and shall be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by a public recount under the supervision of the court of common pleas of the ballots by which it was filled at the last regular election of the council This recount shall be conducted according to the following rules

(One) All choices marked for members of the council or for candidates who have become ineligible or have expressed to the court of common pleas in writing their desire to withdraw shall be disregarded

(Two) The ballots shall be sorted each to the highest choice marked on it for any of the eligible candidates

(Three) If any candidate has to his credit more than half of the ballots which show any preference among these candidates he shall be declared elected to the vacant place

(Four) If no candidate has to his credit more than half of the ballots which show such a preference every candidate who has no ballots to his credit shall be declared defeated

(Five) Thereupon the remaining candidate lowest on the poll shall be declared defeated and all his ballots transferred each to the candidate indicated on it as next choice among the undefeated candidates

(Six) Thus lowest candidates shall be declared defeated one after another and all their ballots transferred until some candidate is credited with more ballots than all the other undefeated candidates together

(Seven) As soon as one candidate is credited with more ballots than all the other undefeated candidates together he shall be declared elected to the vacant place

(Eight) Except as herein otherwise provided and except that the rules for assembling and checking the ballots and those regarding the quota and surplus ballots may be disregarded the recount shall be governed by the provisions for the original count

(Nine) If two or more vacancies occur at the same time they shall be filled separately in the order in which they are certified to the court of common pleas

Section 22 Vacancies for Which There Are No Candidates If a vacancy occurs for which no regularly nominated candidates remain the council shall by a majority vote of the remaining members appoint a qualified person to fill it for the remainder of the unexpired term

PROCEDURE FOR REPEAL

Section 23 Repeal of Proportional Representation by Popular Vote An borough which adopts proportional representation may repeal it at any general or municipal election thereafter by the same procedure as that prescribed for its adoption The question printed on the ballot in such a case shall be "Shall the use of proportional representation for the lection of the council of the borough of ..... be discontinued"

Section 24 Effect of Repeal In case the use of proportional representation is repealed the next regular municipal election thereafter shall be held according to the procedure which would be in effect in the borough if proportional representation had not previously been adopted In case this procedure requires overlapping terms of office all the members of the council shall be chosen at that election nevertheless and the candidates receiving most votes shall hold office for the longest terms

ARTICLE II

PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION PROVISIONS

Section 26 Proportional Election of Council for a Two-Year Term At the first municipal election after the adoption of the city manager plan of government with proportional representation and at the regular municipal election in every second year thereafter all the members of the council shall be elected together from the city at large by proportional representation according to the following provisions

Section 27 Nomination by Nomination Papers All candidates for the council shall be nominated by nomination papers in accordance with the provisions of general law governing the nomination of independent candidates by nomination papers for municipal elections except that each candidate for the council shall be nominated by separate nomination papers and no elector shall sign the nomination paper of more than one such candidate

Section 28 Separate Ballot Councilmen shall be voted for on a separate councilmanic ballot which shall be used for no other purpose

Section 29 Party Names Designations of party or policy to be printed on the ballot after the names of the candidates for the council shall be determined by the candidates and set forth in their nomination papers except that the name of a party entitled to participate in the fall primary preceding the election in question shall not be used alone without the consent of the city committee or other city governing body if any of the part in question If the name of such party is used alone in the nomination papers of any candidate a certificate of endorsement of the city committee or other governing body if any of the party in question signed by its chairman and secretary shall be filed with the county commisioners with the candidate's nomination papers The councilmanic ballot shall not provide any means of voting a straight party ticket except as indicated in the Directions to Voters set forth in Section 30

Section 30 Directions to Voters On the councilmanic ballots the following directions to voters shall be substituted for those prescribed for municipal elections by general law

Directions to Voters

Put the figure 1 in the square opposite the name of your first choice You may also express second third and other choices by putting the figure 2 opposite the name of your second choice the figure 3 opposite the name of your third choice and so on You may express thus as many choices as you please without any regard to the number being elected

Your ballot will be counted for your first choice if it can help elect him If it cannot help elect him it will be transferred to the highest of your other choices whom it can help

You cannot hurt the chances of any candidate you prefer by marking lower choices for others The more choices you express the surer you are to make your ballot count for one of them But do not feel obliged to express more choices than you really have .

Do not put the same figure opposite more than one name

If you spoil this ballot return it to the election officer in charge of the ballots and get another from him

Section 31 Form of Ballot Except as herein otherwise provided the ballot used for the election of councilmen shall be in substantially the form prescribed by general law for municipal elections

Section 32 Preparation for Elections Previous to every election of the council the court of common pleas one (1) shall designate a central counting place for the whole city where all councilmanic ballots shall be brought together and counted publicly two (2) shall employ a sufficient number of qualified assistants to count such ballots and three (3) shall make all other necessary arrangements for the counting of such ballots

Section 33 Assembling the Ballots From the Election Districts When the polls are closed and before the ballot box is opened the election officers in each election district shall announce and record on the outside of a councilmanic return envelope to be furnished them by the county commissioners the number of councilmanic ballots issued to voters as shown by the ballot stubs and the number of such ballots spoiled and returned by voters and cancelled Immediately after the ballot box is opened they shall sort out all of the councilmanic ballots from the other ballots used at the election and without making any tabulation of the votes cast or councilmen shall enclose them in said councilmanic return envelope and seal the same The spoiled cancelled ballots the unused ballots and the ballot stubs shall be replaced in the ballot box with the other ballots used at the election The judge of election shall deliver the said councilmanic return envelope containing the councilmanic ballots to the person authorized by the court of common pleas to receive the same at the central counting place in such manner and within such period of time as the court of common pleas shall direct

Section 34 Rules for Counting Ballots for the Election of Councilmen At such time as the court of common pleas shall direct but beginning not later than noon of the Friday next following the election the councilmanic ballots shall be counted under its supervision or under the supervision of a person or persons designated by it for the purpose in the central counting place designated by it for the entire city and according to the following rules

(One) The ballots in the councilmanic return envelope from each election district shall first be counted separately and their number recorded

(Two) The ballots shall then be sorted according to the first choices marked on them

(Three) As the ballots are sorted those received by each candidate shall be stamped or marked with serial numbers in the order in which they are received

(Four) If a ballot does not clearly show which candidate the voter prefers to all others or if it contains any word mark or other sign apparently intended to identify the voter it shall be set aside as invalid Every ballot not thus invalid shall be counted according to the intent of the voter so far as that can be clearly ascertained whether marked according to the directions printed on it or not

(Five) If the consecutive numerical order of the figures on a ballot is broken by the omission of one or more figures the order of the figures on the ballot shall be taken as the voter's order of preference without regard to the figure or figures omitted

(Six) When all the ballots have been sorted according to first choices the number of valid ballots cast for each candidate as first choice and the total number of valid ballots shall be determined

(Seven) The total number of valid ballots shall then be divided by a number greater by one than the number of members to be elected The next whole number larger than the resulting quotient shall be the quota sufficient to elect a member

(Eight) All candidates whose first-choice ballots equal or exceed the quota in number shall be declared elected

(Nine) As many transferable ballots as each elected candidate has in excess of the quota shall then be transferred from him to other candidates first the surplus ballots of the candidate highest on the poll then the surplus ballots of the candidate next highest and so on

A "transferable" ballot is a ballot from which the next choice of the voter for some continuing candidate can be clearly ascertained A "continuing candidate" is a candidate as yet neither elected nor defeated

(Ten) The particular ballots of a candidate to be transferred as his surplus shall be those which have received certain serial numbers determined as follows

(a) The total number of ballots which the candidate has received (say for example 10,600) shall be divided by the number he has received above the quota (say 1,000) The quotient thus determined (10 in the example given) disregarding any remainder shall be used as the basis of selection as hereinafter provided

(b) The ballots taken for transfer shall be those which are transferable and whose serial numbers are the smallest exact multiples of the quotient (10 20 30 40 etc in the example)

(c) If there are not enough transferable ballots whose serial numbers are exact multiples of the quotient enough of the transferable ballots whose serial numbers are one less than the smallest exact multiples of the quotient (9 19 29 39 etc in the example) shall be taken also If there are not enough of these transferable ballots whose serial numbers are two less than the smallest exact multiples of the quotient (8 18 28 38 etc in the example) shall be taken also and so on until the entire surplus has been transferred

(d) If all the candidate's transferable ballots are taken for transfer without reducing his total to the quota all his remaining ballots shall be left to his credit

(Eleven) In the transfer of a surplus each ballot shall be transferred to the candidate indicated on it as next choice among the unelected candidates

(Twelve) After the transfer of all surpluses or if no candidate received a surplus after the count of first choices every candidate who has to his credit fewer ballots than the number of signatures required to nominate him shall be declared defeated provided however that if this provision would reduce the number of undefeated candidates below the number to be elected it shall not be applied

(Thirteen) All the ballots of the candidates thus defeated shall be transferred together each to the candidate indicated on it as next choice among the continuing candidates Any ballot which does not clearly indicate any candidate as next choice among the continuing candidates shall be set aside as exhausted

(Fourteen) After all the ballots if any of the candidates defeated under rule twelve have been transferred the one candidate who is then lowest on the poll shall be declared defeated and all his ballots transferred in the same way Thereupon the candidate who is then lowest shall be defeated and his ballots transferred Thus lowest candidates shall be declared defeated one after another all the ballots of each being transferred before any other candidate is defeated

(Fifteen) Whenever the total number of ballots credited to any candidate becomes equal to the quota he shall immediately be declared elected and no ballots in excess of the quota shall be transferred to him

(Sixteen) If when a candidate is to be declared defeated two or more candidates are tied at the bottom of the poll that one of the tied candidates shall be declared defeated who was credited with fewest ballots just before the last transfer of ballots If two or more of the tied candidates were tied at that stage of the count also the second tie shall be decided if necessary by referring similarly to the standing of the candidates just before the last transfer of ballots before that This principle shall be applied successively as many times as may be necessary a tie a tie shown at any stage of the count being decided by referring to the standing of the tied candidates just before the last preceding transfer of ballots

(Seventeen) Any tie not otherwise provided for shall be decided by lot

(Eighteen) If at any time candidates to the number to be elected have received the quota any transfer of ballots in progress when the last quota was reached shall be completed but immediately thereafter all continuing candidates shall be declared defeated and the election shall be at an end

(Nineteen) If at any time all ballots of any defeated candidates have been transferred and it is impossible to defeat another candidate without reducing the continuing candidates below the number still to be elected all the continuing candidates shall be declared elected and the election shall be at an end

(Twenty) A record of the count shall be kept in such form as to show after each sorting or transfer of ballots the number thereby credited to each candidate the number thereby found exhausted the total for each candidate the total found exhausted and the total number of valid ballots found by adding the totals of all candidates and the total found exhausted

(Twenty-one) If the total number of valid ballots found after any transfer is not the same as the totals found previously the error shall be found and corrected before the count proceeds

(Twenty-two) Every ballot that is transferred from one candidate to another shall be stamped or marked so that its entire course from candidate to candidate can be conveniently traced

(Twenty-three) If in correcting an error any ballots are re-sorted or re-transferred every ballot shall be made to take the same course that it took in the original count unless the correction of an error requires its taking a different course These principles shall apply also to any recount except for the filling of a vacancy which may be made after the original count has been completed

Section 35 Recesses for Counting Staff The counting staff shall proceed with reasonable expedition in the counting of the councilmanic ballots but may take recesses or adjourn from day to day at the discretion of the court of common pleas or the person or persons delegated by it to take charge of the court The court of common pleas shall make proper provision for the safekeeping of the ballots while the counting is not in progress

Section 36 Supervision Every facility for witnessing the count that is consistent with good order shall be given to the public and to representatives of the public press Special facilities including the privilege of mingling with the counting staff and examining any of the ballots closely shall be given to any person who may be appointed in writing as their representative for the purpose by at least three of the candidates whose names are printed on the ballot and who have not shared in the appointment of any other person for the purpose

Section 37 Preservation of Ballots The ballots cast at each election of the council shall be preserved by the court of common pleas until the term of the members elected thereby has expired The ballots credited to each successful candidate at the end of the election shall be kept separate from the rest as the ballots which elected him

Section 38 Time of Taking Office The members of the council shall take office on the first Monday in January next following their election and shall serve until their successors are elected and take office

Section 39 Recount to Fill Vacancies If a vacancy occurs in the council it shall be certified to the court of common pleas by the secretary or clerk of the council and shall be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by a public recount under the supervision of the court of common pleas of the ballots by which it was filled at the last regular election of the council This recount shall be conducted according to the following rules

(One) All choices marked for members of the council or for candidates who have become eligible have expressed to the court of common pleas in writing their desire to withdraw shall be disregarded

(Two) The ballots shall be sorted each to the highest choice marked on it for any of the eligible candidates

(Three) If any candidate has to his credit more than half of the ballots which show any preference among these candidates he shall be declared elected to the vacant place

(Four) If no candidate has to his credit more than half of the ballots which show such a preference every candidate who has no ballots to his credit shall be declarel defeated

(Five) Thereupon the remaining lowest on the poll shall be declared defeated and all his ballots transferred each to the candidate indicated on it as next choice among the undefeated candidates

(Six) Thus lowest candidates shall be declared defeated one after another and all their ballots transferred until some candidate is credited with more than all the othe undefeated candidates together

(Seven) As soon as one candidate is credited with more ballots than all the other undefeated candidates together he shall be declared elected to the vacant place

(Eight) Except as herein otherwise provided and except that the rules for assembling and checking the ballots and those regarding the quota and surplus ballots may be disregarded the recount shall be governed by the provisions for the original count

(Nine) If two or more vacancies occur at the same time they shall be filled separately in the order in which they are certified to the court of common pleas

Section 40 Vacancies for Which There are No Candidates If a vacancy occurs for which no regularly nominated candidates remain the council shall by a majority vote of the remaining members appoint a qualified person to fill it for the remainder of the unexpired term

PROCEDURE FOR REPEAL

Section 41 Repeal by Popular Vote Any city which adopts the city manager plan of government with proportional representation may repeal it at any general or municipal election thereafter by the same procedure as that prescribed for its adoption The question printed on the ballot in such a case shall be "Shall the city manager plan of government with proportional representation be discontinued in the city of .....?"

Section 42 First Election After Repeal In case the city manager plan of government with proportional representation is repealed the next municipal election thereafter shall be conducted for the offices and according to the provisions which would be in effect if the city were at that election coming for the first time under the provisions of general law for cities of its class

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1054, as follows:

Whereas Honorable Boies Penrose served in the House of Representatives and the Senate of the State of Pennsylvania and was the President of the State Senate and

Whereas The joint Legislature of the Session of one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven elected him to represent the State of Pennsylvania in the United States Senate and continued to elect his thereafter as a State Representative in the Senate of the United States

Whereas The Constitution ofthe United States subsequently changed the method of election of United States Senators by the Legislative bodies to a majority vote of the citizens of the States and he continued to so represent the State of Pennsylvania by election direct from its citizens to the United States Senate until his death occurred December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one

Therefore Be it resolved that in token of his continuous untiring effort to represent his constituencies in all of these three bodies and served so magnificently the people of the entire country that it is the sense of this Legislature that the following Act in commemoration of these activities and services be adopted

An Act providing for the erection of a statue of Honorable Boies Penrose on the capitol grounds at Harrisburg, and making an appropriation therefore

APPROPRIATION

STATUE OF BOIES PENROSE

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary be and the same is hereby specifically appropriated out of money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated for the purpose of erecting a statue of the late Honorable Boies Penrose on the capitol grounds at Harrisburg

COMMISSION

Section 2 The Governor is hereby authorized to appoint three citizens of the Commonwealth who together with the commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings are hereby constituted a Commission to procure said statute with the approval of the State Art Commission and cause the same to be erected upon said capitol grounds

Section 3 The money appropriated under this act shall be drawn on warrant of the Auditor General upon requisition of the president and treasurer of the Commission appointed as herein provided which shall be used for the payment of the statue and the necessary expenses and for no other purpose whatever All expenses provided herein shall be accounted for by certified vouchers under the hand of the president and treasurer of said Commission to be filed with the Auditor General and any unexpended balance shall be returned into the State Treasury

APPOINTMENT OF COMMISSION

Section 4 Thirty days after the approval of this act the Governor shall appoint the members of the Commission and call a meeting of the Commission who shall at their first meeting organize by electing a president secretary and treasurer and proceed at once to discharge the duties imposed upon them by this act

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHESTER A. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Haws, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr HAWS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. CHESTER A. RHODES. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia state why the late Senator should need a monument on the capitol grounds to perpetuate his memory?

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House,, in answer to the gentleman from Monroe it is not a question whether Senators have memorials placed in the capitol or capitol grounds, but it does seem to me that Pennsylvania, knowing of the deeds and the work that was done for this State by the late Senator Penrose as a United States Senator, a man who rose to the highest position in that august body, would never deny a memorial of this kind to a man of his ability.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

A Supplement to the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and eight) entitled "An act to regulate the practice of pharmacy and sale of poisons and drugs and providing penalties for the violation thereof defining the words "drugs" and "poison" and providing for the appointment of a board which shall have in charge the enforcement of said law and the power to make rules and regulations for the enforcement of said law and providing for the purchase of samples of drugs for determining their quality strength and purity" regulating the ownership of pharmacies and durg stores and providing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That every pharmacy or drug store shall be owned only by a licensed pharmacist and no copartnership shall own a pharmacy or drug store unless all the partners are licensed pharmacists except that any corporation organized and existing under the laws of the Commonwealth or of any other state of the United States and authorized to do business in the Commonwealth and empowered by its charter to own and conduct pharmacies or drug stores and at the time of the passage of this act still owns and conducts a registered pharmacy or pharmacies or drug store or drug stores in the Commonwealth may continue to own and conduct the same but no other or additional pharmacies or drug stores shall be established owned or conducted by such corporation association or copartnership unless all the members or partners thereof are registered pharmacists but any such corporation association or copartnership which shall not continue to own at least one of the pharmacies or drug stores theretofore owned by it or cease to be actively engaged in the conduct of a pharmacy shall not be permitted thereafter to own a pharmacy or a drug store unless all of its partners or members are registered pharmacists and except that any person not a licensed pharmacist who at the time of the passage of this act owns a pharmacy or a drug store in the Commonwealth may continue to own and conduct the same but shall establish or own any additional pharmacy or drug store or if he or she ceases to operate such pharmacy or drug store shall not thereafter own a pharmacy or drug store unless he or she be a registered pharmacist and except that the administrator executor or trustee of the estate of any deceased owner or a registered pharmacy or drug store owner may continue to own and conduct such pharmacy or drug store during the period necessary for the settlement of the estate

Section 2 Any person copartnership or corporation violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one hundred dollars Each day any such pharmacy is owned contrary to the provisions of this act shall be considered a separate offense

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, and membeds of the House, this is the bill about which I spoke to the House a week ago. A number of members had asked me whether this affected the sale of drugs and household remedies by the country store or other places other than drugs for which prescriptions are put up. Some of the representatives of the wholesale drug houses, and some of the representatives of the wholesale grocers were here a week ago and discussd the matter with the state pharmatical association. They came to the conclusion that under the provivsions of the present law, the present pharmacutical law, it did not change it and therefore would not affect those people, and they were satisfid. The present law says this, that it shall not prevent storekeepers from dealing in and selling commonly used household drugs when the same are offered for sale or sold in packages, that is put up and ready for sale to consumers by pharmacists, manufacturing druggist, wholesale grocers and wholesale druggists. With that explanation I do not think it can harm any of your constitutents, and I think the bill should pass.

Section 7 This act shall take effect on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1820, (Senate Bill No. 79), entitled:

An Act to amend part of section seven of an act approved the twenty-fourth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, (P. L. 977), entitled "An act to provide for the personal registration of electors, and their enrollment as members of political parties, in cities of the first and second classes of this Commonwealth; to make such registration a condition of the right to vote in such cities, and their said enrollment as members of a political party a condition of the right to vote at primaries in said cities; and providing for the payment of witness fees for persons summoned before the commissioners; to provide penalties for violations of its provisions; and to repeal acts inconsistent herewith."

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Emhardt

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1903, entitled:

An Act providing for the division of certain wards in cities of the first class by the court of quarter sessions

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. EMLEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill was put in to try to correct something that took place last year in Philadelphia. It is an unnecessary bill. It is simply a job-creating bill. Last year an application was made to divide the 22nd ward and the proceeding went through and the application was turned down. I object to the bill on the ground that it is entirely unnecessary. I have protests from a great many of my constituents, including the Germantown and Chestnut Hill Improvement Association. I ask you to vote against the bill.

Mr. EMHARDT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there is a great necessity for this bill in the larger wards of the city of Philadelphia. I cannot speak so much for the other wards but I do know there is a necessity in my ward, the 22nd ward, I have been a member of the executive committee in that ward for a number of years, and I simply desire to say to my collague from Philadelphia, that I have been interested in minutia of politics. Gentlemen, conceive of a ward with 83 divisions, many of those divisions with over 1000 voters, and as I go around over that ward from time to time on election days, it is absolutely impossible to cover the district and handle it from the standpoint of having the divisions manned, I find that one-fifth of that ward is not represented on the executive committee, and in some divisions the polls are not opened until ten and eleven o'clock in the morning. In the division in which I live, the 36th we don't have an election officer and the division is never opened in the morning until we can get to our headquarters and have rump convention and elect new officers. In the 79th division on the last election day, I got to that division at half past nine in the morning and there were no election officers there at all. I went down to my own office and brought two of my salesmen up to man the polls. Now gentlemen, if that is in conformity with the election laws of the state of Pennsylvania I do not know, but I know what the necessity is. I know it definitely better than men who have not been interested in politics, that is to say, in politics where the people shall be allowed an opportunity to register their choice. That is one reason why this bill is asked for. It is not for political reasons, but for the sake of allowing the people to man their election polls and be given a chance to register their votes.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Section 4 Whenever any city of the first class may desire to condemn enter upon take appropriate occupy and use any properties facilities and franchises hereunder it shall declare its intention so to do by ordinance duly enacted which ordinance shall set forth what properties facilities and franchises the City desires to condemn and whether the acquisition thereof shall be subject to or free from the bonds obligations or other liabilities liens and encumbrances in whole or in part Thereupon the said city may proceed to the condemnation thereof under the terms of said ordinance and the compensation or damages arising from such condemnation taking appropriation occupying and using of such properties facilities and franchises shall be ascertained determined and paid in the manner hereinafter set forth The condemnation proceedings shall be begun by petition to the Public Service Commisison to assess and determine the proper amount of compensation to be paid therefor and shall set forth with reasonable certainty a description of the properties facilities and franchises to be condemned and the names of the owners thereof and whether the same are to be taken free from or subject to the bonds obligations or other liabilities liens and encumbrances or to what extent they are to be so taken and the Public Service Commission shall after due notice to all parties interested and after such public hearings thereon as it shall deem necessary and proper assess and determine the amount of compensation or damages to be paid by the city to the owner or owners aforesaid

Section 5 In ascertaining assessing and determining the amount of compensation or damages to be paid by the city the Public Service Commission may determine every fact matter or thing which in its judgment does or may have any bearing on the fair amount of the compensation The factors thus to be taken into account may in the discretion of the Public Service Commission include among other things the original cost of construction with particular reference to the amount expended in existing and useful permanent improvements with such consideration for the amount in market value of the owners' bonds and stock if the owner be a corporation as to the Public Service Commission may seem just and fair the probable earning capacity of the property under particular rates prescribed by statute or ordinance or other municipal contract or fixed or proposed by the Public Service Commission and for the items of expenditures for obsolete equipment and construction as the circumstances and historical development of the properties may warrant The reproduction cost of the property based upon the fair average price of materials property and labor and the development and going-concern value of such properties facilities and franchises any element of delay under these proceedings and other elements of value shall be given such weight by the Commission as may in its judgment be just and right in each case as in other matters involving the valuation of properties and facilities devoted to the public service and coming before the said Public Service Commission for determination The determination of the Public Service Commission shall award compensation or damages to each owner separately and in case any owner is also the lessee of the properties facilities and franchises of any other company whose properties facilities or franchises are acquired or to be acquired hereunder the total amount awarded with respect thereto shall be apportioned between the owner or owners of such properties facilities and franchises and any person or persons company or companies having an interest therein by virtue of any such lease or series of leases the purpose of this provision being that the gross amount of damages or compensation ascertained and determined as hereinabove provided shall be distributed among those rightfully entitled thereto in such manner as may be just and equitable having in view their respective interests therein Should the condemnation be free from any or all bonds obligations or other liabilities liens and encumbrances the award to any individual or company whose property is subject thereto shall include a sum or sums sufficient to satisfy the same and the award to such company or individual in such case shall be made subject to the rights of those entitled under any such bonds obligations or other liabilities liens and encumbrances Provided that in no case shall the amount awarded to any company be less than the amount paid into the treasury of such company by its stockholders and invested in the acquisition or development of its property and franchises taken and appropriated In case the properties facilities and franchises of the operating company are not taken and condemned in any proceeding under this act the award shall not include any interest which the said operating company may have in any of the condemned properties facilities and franchises represented by any lease operating agreement assignment or other contract which interest shall continue as theretofore but in case it is a stockholder or creditor either in its own right or as lessee of any company whose properties facilities and franchises are taken and condemned under said proceedings and such stock or credit is pledged to secure an issue or issues of bonds then there shall be a proper and equitable adjustment in the award to meet these conditions

Section 6 Within thirty days after the filing of any determination by the Public Service Commission of the amount of compensation or damages to be paid by any city for any taking and appropriation hereunder unless application for a rehearing be pending and then within thirty days after refusal of such application any party to the proceedings may appeal therefrom to the Superior Court and the said court shall have the power to confirm the commission's determination or to direct the commission to reconsider the question and file a new determination modified and corrected in such manner as the court shall prescribe

If however any party shall desire a trial by jury such party within thirty days after the filing by the Public Service Commission of its determination or if an application for a rehearing shall have been made within thirty days after the refusal of such application shall take an appeal to the court of common pleas of the county in which said city of the first class is situated demanding a jury trial according to the course of the common law which court shall have jurisdiction of said trial both as to the properties facilities and franchises of such party within said county and within any adjacent counties in which such properties facilities and franchises or any part thereof may be situated Upon any such jury trial the determination of the Public Service Commission and any opinion rendered by the said commission in connection therewith shall be admissible in evidence Upon the entry of final judgment on any issue had upon any such trial either party shall have the right to an appeal to the Superior or Supreme Court as in other cases

Section 7 Before any city of the first class shall actually enter upon take and appropriate properties facilities and franchises sought to be condemned under this act and before it shall tender or file its bond as hereinafter provided the city shall first obtain the assent of the electors to such condemnation The question shall be submitted to the electors at the time in the manner and under the requirements provided by law with respect to elections for the purpose of obtaining the assent of the electors to the increase of the indebtedness of such city when such assent is necessary and the question to be submitted to the electors at such election shall be whether they will assent to the incurring or increase of the debt in the amount which shall be stated for the purpose of the condemnation of such properties facilities and franchises which purpose shall be briefly indicated and if the consent of the court to the deduction of the amount to be so forrowed from the city's debt in calculating its borrowing power shall have been first obtained that fact shall be stated in the notice of the election required to be given by section five of article eighteen of the act approved June twenty-fifth one thousand nine hundred and nineteen entitled "An act for the Better Government of cities of the first class of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania" The assent of a majority of the electors of such city voting upon the question shall be a condition precedent to the consummation of such condemnation and taking

Section 8 In all cases in which such city intends to pay the damages and compensation awarded from money to be borrowed and in which the condition of its debt is such as to make necessary the deduction from its total indebtedness of the debt about to be incurred for that purpose in calculating its borrowing capacity before it shall actually enter upon take and appropriate properties facilities and franchises sought to be condemned hereunder or tender or file its bond as hereinafter provided the city shall first present its petition to the court of common pleas of the county in which such city is situated praying for a determination in the manner provided by law whether the indebtedness about to be incurred is so deductible from its total debt in calculating its borrowing capacity The final decision of the right of the city in such cases to deduct such indebtedness about to be incurred shall be a condition precedent to the consummation of the condemnation Such petition shall be presented by the city to said court within three months after the final determination of the amount of compensation or damages for the taking of any or all of the properties facilities and franchises to be acquired hereunder or within three months after the assent of the electors shall be given to the taking or condemnation thereof as hereinabove provided The proceedings required under this section eight may precede or follow those provided for in the foregoing section as the city may determine

Section 9 Title to the aforesaid properties facilities and franchises and the right of entry thereon shall pass to the city only upon payment by it of the amount of compensation or damages finally determined as herein provided unless prior to such payment the city shall tender its bond as security therefor the condition of which shall be the payment by the city of the compensation or damages finally determined as herein provided should any party claiming compensation or damages be dissatisfied with the amount of the bond so tendered or refuse to accept the same the city shall given written notice of the time when said bond will be presented to the court of common pleas of said county for approval anl upon the approval of said court such bond shall be duly filed and upon the filing thereof as herein provided the city shall have the right to enter upon take use occupy and appropriate said properties facilities and franchises

Section 10 Any city of the first class which shall have taken and appropriated any properties facilities and franchises hereunder shall have the power to own maintain use operate and lease the same or to grant licenses for the operation thereof or to enter into operating agreements therefor

Section 11 Should such city fail to consummate any determination begun hereunder either by reason of the refusal of the electors to assent thereto or by reason of an adverse determination of the court upon the question of the deductibility of its indebtedness sought to be incurred or for any other reason then and in such event the city shall pay all the costs of proceedings had in the matter and shall reimburse all the parties to the proceedings for their reasonable costs and expenses the amounts of such reimbursement to be determined by the court of common pleas of the county in which such city is situated

Section 12 It is hereby declared that the various sections clauses and provisions of this act shall be severable and that if any of the powers conferred on any city of the first class by this act or any of the other provisions hereof shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision holding the same unconstitutional shall not affect the validity of any or all of the remaining provisions of the act it being the intention of this statute that every power conferred upon any city of the first class herein is a separate and distinct power and every section clause or provisions herein is to be taken and regarded as separate severable and apart from each and all of the other sections clauses and provisions hereof

Section 13 The act approved the nineteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen Pamphlet Laws ten hundred and ninety-six entitled "An Act authorizing any city of the first class to acquire street railway transit facilities within such city or adjacent thereto and the franchises for operating the same by the exercise of the power of eminent domain providing for the determination by the Public Service Commission subject to appeal of the amount of compensation to be paid for the properties and franchises taken and empowering such city to operate maintain use lease license or contract for the operation of the facilities so acquired" and all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith or supplied hereby be and the same are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 911, entitled:

An Act to preserve and improve the purity of the waters of the Commonwealth for the protection of public health animal and aquatic life and for industrial consumption providing for the jurisdiction of courts and justices of the peace in the enforcement thereof and providing additional remedies for abating pollution of waters and repealing certain acts

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STORB. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is one of the most important bills which has been before this House. I understand the word has gone out that it is to be killed because they think the provisions of this bill are entirely too drastic. Now, we have in the state of Pennsylvania a Sanitary Water Board to look after the streams in the state and see that they are not polluted, and I can speak for the district in which I live, in the Schuylkill valley, I know that the cities through that valley, Reading and Pottstown and all of them, discharge their sewage into the Schuylkill river and it goes down to Philadelphia and the people drink it. I think that thing ought to be stopped, but the Sanitary Water Board has no power to stop it, they can only recommend. This would give the Sanitary Water Board some power and I believe they would use common sense in this matter. Some think that by doing this it would stop the mining of coal, but there is nothing to that. We know they would not do, or attempt to do anything like that. I would like to see this bill pass. I believe the Senate will kill it, but I would like to see it pass. The fishermen are all back of this but there are no fish in the streams, but I would like to see it pass.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is an act to preserve and improve the purity of the waters of the Commonwealth. As Mr. Storb has indicated it vests large discretionary powers in the Sanitary Water Board. At the present time the matter of sewage pollution is vested in different bodies. The question of industrial pollution is not vested directly in anybody. Under the Fish Code, the Commissioner of Fisheries has certain discretionary powers, but there is no one body that has coordinate power of acting on all matters of stream pollution. As already indicated this bill would simply vest large discretionary powers in the Sanitary Board. The bill was amended in committee so that it does not in its present shape, refer to pollution or discharge of waters by mines. In other words, mines have been eliminated from the enumeration of industrial establishments. This bill is largely in response to a request by the Sanitary Water Board in its annual report to the Governor on December 31st, 1926, in which the Sanitary Water Board made this statement: "The greatest need of the board is to be empowered to receive applications and issue approval permits stipulating the conditions under which industrial wastes may be discharged into the waters of the state. This places the discharge of industrial waste in the same legal status as is now the case with municipal sewage. Without such authority the industrial waste disposal problem cannot said to be solved in Pennsylvania." Now, members of the House, by trend and tradition, I am conservative. If I did not feel that this bill would constructively conserve I would not be the sponsor of the bill. In my opinion it is constructively conservative, and I ask for your favorable consideration.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I took this matter up with the city councils of Philadelphia, and I assume you have taken the matter up with your different municipalities. Our councilmen figure it would cost some millions of dollars to comply with the provisions of this law. We are not in position to do it now, and we would ask you to vote "no" on the bill.

Mr. HETRICK. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Bidelspacher permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HETRICK. Mr. Bidlespacher, if this bill becomes a law, would it require boroughs that are now using the river for sewage disposal to put in a disposal plant?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Not any more than under the existing law, except that it vests discretionary power in the Sanitary Water Board.

Mr. HETRICK. Then I understand that that power already lies in that Board?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. It does so far as sewage disposal is concerned.

Mr. HETRICK. What is it?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. It does so far as sewage disposal is concerned, but this bill goes further and takes in the matter of industrial waste and places that power under the Sanitary Water Board.

Mr. HETRICK. I have no objection to the waste, I am more interested, particularly under the borough code with sewage going into the river. Now, if this will compel us to use a sewage disposal plant, I am opposed to it.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. According to existing law, boroughs and cities are all supposed to put in sewage disposal plants, but the discretionary power time has been extended from time to time, and under this act the Sanitary Water Board can again extend from time to time, according to the amendment.

Mr. HETRICK. Then you would say that this would not bring that time any nearer when we would have to put up disposal plants?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. No, but it will not burden the cities now—I have no objection to you asking questions, but I do not expect to have someone else prompting you.

Mr. HETRICK. Mr. Bidelspacher, nobody has asked me to ask you one question.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. If I understand you, your question is, whether it would bring the time any closer for having sewage disposal plants installed.

Mr. HETRICK. Yes, that is my question.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. That would depend entirely upon the discretion of the Sanitary Water Board.

Mr. HETRICK. That was the point that I wanted to bring out, whether they would have authority to compel us any sooner under this bill to put in a disposal plant then they would now have under the existing law.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. I think not. Not any more than at the present time so far as I know.

Mr. CHESTER H. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the sponsor of the bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Bidelspacher, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHESTER H. RHODES. Will the gentleman from Lycoming state why mine water is eliminated from the provisions of this bill.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. The situation is this, so far as I am informed, there is no proper solution of taking the discharge of sulphur water from the mines and making that water so that it is fit for industrial consumption.

Mr. CHESTER H. RHODES. That may be true of other industrial waste, may it not?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. But the Sanitary Water Board under this bill is authorized and empowered and directed to go ahead and conduct experiments, either in conjunction with colleges and universities or on their own initiative and after they have solved the problem, then they can require industries to install the proper methods of treating industrial wastes to eliminate it.

Mr. CHESTER H. RHODES. In other words, your bill discriminates in favor of the mine owners, does it not?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Because we feel that so far as the discharge of waters from the mines is concerned—well, chemists have worked on that for years before the Sagamore coal case was brought. I am informed that years before that some of the best chemists in the state of Pennsylvania with unlimited funds at their disposal tried to solve the problem of making sulphur water discharged from the mines fit for use in boilers, but so far the question is hopeless, and we are not trying to embarass any industry.

Mr. CHESTER H. RHODES. Is it not true that they are working on their industrial waste the same as they are on mine water waste, trying to arrive at a solution?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. I understand that there is some effort being made along that line.

Mr. CHESTER H. RHODES. Isn't that true of the paper industry as well as the mining industry?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. I understand the paper industry has been cooperating with the Sanitary Water Board to a certain extent.

Mr. CHESTER H. RHODES. And the canning industry?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. The whole thought is to coordinate the discretionary powers in one body.

Mr. CHESTER H. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I don't believe that there is anyone that believes more in the saving of the streams than I do, because I come from a county that is vitally interested; on the other hand I personally feel that this bill is impossible. It discriminates on one hand and on the other, there are provisions in it that make it mandatory to industrial waste without any consideration for the industry that may be involved. As the gentleman from Lycoming has said in connection with another matter, the whole thing is hopeless.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE BILL NO. 2057 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Omnibus Bill, House Bill No. 2057, entitled:

An Act establishing certain public roads as State highways and providing for their constructon and maintenance at the expense of the Commonwealth be made a special order of business for Monday, April 11, 1927, at 4:00 o'clock P. M.

Mr. DIEHM. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1940, (Senate Bill No. 313), as follows:

An Act to amend sections seven and thirty-two of an act approved the twelfth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and three) entitled "An act concerning conditional sales and to make uniform the law relating thereto" providing for the filing of certain conditional sale contracts in the prothonotary's office

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act approved the twelfth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws six hundred three) entitled "An act concerning conditional sales and to make uniform the law relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Definition of Terms Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in this "conditional sale" means any contract for the sale of goods under which possession is delivered to the buyer and the property in the goods is to vest in the buyer at a subsequent time upon the payment of part or all of the price or upon the performance of any other condition or the happening of any contingency

"Buyer" means the person who buys the goods covered by the conditional sale or any legal successor in interest of such person

"Filing district" means the subdivision of the State in which conditional sale contracts or copies thereof are required by this act to be filed

"Goods" means all chattels personal other than things in action and money [and machinery attached or to be attached to real estate] and includes emblements industrial growing crops and things attached to or forming a part of land which are agreed to be severed before sale or under the conditional sale

"Performance of the condition" means the occurrence of the event upon which the property in the goods is to vest in the buyer whether such event is the performance of an act by the buyer or the happening of a contingency

"Person" includes an individual partnership corporation and any other association

"Purchase" includes mortgage and pledge

"Purchaser" includes mortgagee and pledgee

"Seller" means the person who sells the goods covered by the conditional sale or any legal successor in interest of such person

Section 2 That section seven of the said Act be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 7 First As against a subsequent purchaser subsequent mortgagee or other subsequent encumbrancer of the realty for value and without notice of the reservation of property in the goods such reservation shall be void as to any goods so attached to the realty as to form a part thereof unless the conditional sale contract or a copy thereof shall be filed as required in section six before such purchase is made or such mortgage is given or such encumbrance is effected "Subsequent" as used in this paragraph refers to the time of attaching the goods to the realty

Second As against an owner a prior mortgagee or other prior encumbrancer of the realty who has not assented to the reservation of property in the goods if any of the goods are so attached to the realty as not to be severable without material injury to the freehold the reservation of property in the goods so attached shall be void not withstanding the filing of the contract or a copy thereof unless such injury although material be such as can be completely repaired and the seller before retaking such goods furnishes or tenders to such owner prior mortgagee or encumbrancer a good and sufficient bond conditioned for the immediate making of such repairs "Prior" as used in this paragraph refers to the time of attaching the chattels to the realty

Third In order to entitle the conditional sale contract or copy thereof referred to in this section to be filed and indexed it shall have endorsed thereon or attached thereto a statement signed by the seller briefly describing the realty and stating that the goods are or are to be affixed thereto

Section 3 The act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and twenty-two) entitled "An act concerning conditional sales of chattels attached or to be attached to realty and regulating the filing and effect thereof and providing remedies and penalties" is hereby repealed

All other acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 1, by inserting after the word "sections" the word "one and"

Amend title, page 1, line 1, by striking out the words "and thirty-two"

Amend title, page 1, lines 6 and 7, by striking out the words "providing for the filing of certain conditional sales contracts in the prothonotary's office" and inserting in lieu thereof "and repealing inconsistent legislation"

Amend sec. 1, page 3, lines 7 to 28, both inclusive, by removing the underscoring

Amend sec. 1, page 4, lines 1 to 12, by removing the underscoring

Amend sec. 2, page 4, line 15, by inserting after the figure "7" the following:

FIXTURES. If the goods are so affixed to realty at the time of a conditional sale or subsequently as to become a part thereof and not to be severable wholly or in any portion without material injury to the freehold, the reservation of property as to any portion not so severable shall be void after the goods are so affixed, as against any person who has expressly assented to the reservation. If the goods are so affixed to realty at the time of a conditional sale or subsequently as to become part thereof, but to be severable without material injury to the freehold, the reservation of property shall be void after the goods are so affixed as against subsequent purchasers of the realty for value and without notice of the conditional seller's title, unless the conditional sale contract or a copy thereof, together with a statement signed by the seller, briefly describing the realty and stating that the goods are or are to be affixed thereto, shall be filed before such purchase in the office where a deed of the realty would be recorded or registered to affect such realty. As against the owner of realty the reservation of the property in goods by a conditional seller shall be void when such goods are to be so affixed to the realty as to become part thereof, but to be severable without material injury to the freehold, unless the conditional sale contract or a copy thereof, together with a statement signed by the seller, briefly describing the realty and stating that the goods are to be affixed thereto, shall be filed, before they are affixed, in the office where a deed would be recorded or registerd to affect such realty.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1545, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and forty-five) entitled "An act relating to payment of taxes on seated lands by joint tenants tenants in common or coparceners"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Turner

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1487, entitled:

An Act to provide for the making adoption and administration of general plans for public improvements and for such purpose authorizing the creation of planning commissions prescribing their powers and duties providing for the financing of their work and providing penalties for the violation of certain provisions hereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill provides for a planning commission, where two, three, or four or more groups of communities desire to get together for the mutual improvement of a certain locality. It provides that the commisson upon petition of one hundred citizens may be appointed by the Governor, or that it may be appointed from the locality on petition of the respective municipalitits who desire to join in the improvement. I think every member of this House is familiar with the benefits that can accrue to any communty from planning. I think we all know the cost to which most of our municipalities have been put in recent years by reason of the failure of a great many of our communities in the past to properly plan, adequately plan for the future. So it seems to those interested in planning that there are many times when a number of communities might desire to get together and provide for the general development of that entire section. There are many times when perhaps it might be the desire to amalgamate some political units, for the development of sewers, for the development of highways and parks and other things of interest to these respective communities, but if you combine political units, a a number of questions arise that would not arise if you have a planning commission by which those units could work together for the general improvement. We have in Philadelphia the regional planning federation which has worked along as a voluntary body for the general development. They go as far north as Trenton, as far south as Wilmington, and they desire that these communities can work for the general plan of the great metropolitan district in and about Philadelphia, without joining these political units. They have worked as a voluntary body and they desire to have an official body that may combine that territory and that may plan for the general development of the greater metropolitan district around Philadelphia. I understand that there are some of the public utilities, especially some of the electric light companies who are opposed to the planning commission. In fact I not only understand, but I know it from the fact that this House passed a planning bill for county planning commissions. It went to the Senate and it was defeated in the Senate after I had amended it, as I thought, in conformity with the ideas of the utility companies. This bill is now being opposed by the representatives of some of these same utilities. I want to say to the members of the House that we did prepare a bill No. 431, that was practically the same as this, but which met objection from a great many of our public service corporations. A conference was held in the city of Philadelphia, and as a result of that conference, a new bill was prepared, No. 1487, but still some of these utilities are opposed to this measure. I had this morning a letter from the secretary of the regional planning federation in the Philadelphia district who says "I have again taken up with the utilities the matter of House Bill No. 1487. They are quite in favor of the bill and have instructed their representatives not to oppose it. The opposition as you suggested seems to come from the utilities in the northern and eastern parts of the state and unfortunately we have not any influence with them." Now, I understand that the main objection of these companies is that they have had trouble with a few planning commissions in a few localities and that they figure it is going to add to the cost per mile of their plant of some one hundred fifty dollars to carry out their extension program. It seems to me that if it is of general benefit of the people in a community, if this can be of any general benefit to the people of the state that we ought not to stand upon a small expenditure of money and that the members of this House ought to stand behind this measure which has been carefully prepared by people who know about planning in cooperation with a number of the representatives of the large public service corporations in and about Philadelphia. I would ask you to pass this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

vising amending and consolidating the law relating thereto" as amended by providing that if the supervisors petition the court of quarter sessions for authority to levy a greater rate than ten mills of road tax the court shall deny the prayer of said petition if the owners of real estate having assessed valuation of fifty per centum of the total assessed valuation of real estate in the township object thereto.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. STRAYER. Mr. Speaker, with the consent of the sponsor, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1856, entitled:

An Act to amend section forty-two of the act approved the fifteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four (Pamphlet Laws five hundred thirty-seven) entitled "An act relating to counties and townships and county and township officers" as amended by permitting county treasurers to be reimbursed for necessary expenses incurred in collecting and transmitting money for the Commonwealth out of fees for fish hunters and dog licenses as well as out of commissions and providing that all commissions and fees in excess of the amounts deductible under this act shall be paid into the county treasuries

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1801, entitled:

An Act authorizing sheriffs to appoint special deputies for court service at the request of any judge or when needed to guard prisoners being brought to court and fixing the fees to be paid by counties for such services

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FRANK D. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FRANK D. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if this bill becomes a law, whether it will affect every court in the commonwealth?

Mr. BLUMBERG. It will. May I say, Mr. Speaker, that this bill was handed to me to be introduced, by the sheriffs' association of Pennsylvania, and I understand it is the sentiment of the courts that this bill should be enacted into law.

Mr. FRANK D. EVANS. In your bill the sheriff may use his own discretion, he may appoint them upon the request of a judge. Upon the request of a judge or the petition of a judge he may use his own discretion.

Mr. BLUMBERG. No, this act provides that whenever any judge of said court shall request, he shall appoint.

Mr. FRANK D. EVANS. But you have in your title "when needed."

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Legislative Journal.

Session 1927 — 127th of the General Assembly

Vol. 10 — HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, APRIL 11, 1927. — No. 38

SENATE.

MONDAY, April 11, 1927.

The Senate met at 8 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Arthur H James) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. W. Hall, offered the following prayer:

We thank Thee, O God, that Thou hast preserved our lives to meet here this afternoon.

This is the beginning of the end of the session of 1927. Help us to weigh carefully and intelligently the things that come before us, give them our best attention that the greatest good may come to our Commonwealth.

According to the eternal fitness of things virtue has its own reward, sin and selfishness has its own condemnation, defeat always demands explanations, victory always explains itself.

Help us to abhor that which is evil and cling to that which is good that Thy kingdom may come and Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven. Thou shalt have the power and the glory for ever and ever. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mrs. VARE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO SUMMER TRAINING CAMPS.

Mr. MacDADE offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 11, 1927.

Whereas, The Government of the United States has established, and is maintaining certain summer training camps known as Citizen's Military Training Camps; and

Whereas, The object of these training camps is to bring together annually, for a month's training, the best representative young American citizens from all sections of the Nation; to give them the basis of military instruction and that physical and moral development that will fit them to become influential leaders in their respective communities in times of peace and leaders for National defense in time of war; to inculcate a stronger patriotism and a wholesome respect for discipline and obedience to constituted authority; above all, to teach the young men of this generation their serious duties, responsibilities, and obligations to home and country; and

Whereas, No, less than eight of such camps are available to properly qualified young men of this Commonwealth for a period of one month of the ensuing summer without cost; and

Whereas, This Commonwealth and its citizens have been ever in the forefront in great patriotic movements of this nature; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania does hereby indorse the purposes of the citizens' military training camps.

Resolved, That the young men of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are hereby urged to avail themselves of the privileges extended them through such training camps, to the end that they may thereby become more useful citizens of this Commonwealth and Nation in times of peace and war.

Mr. MacDADE. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 717, as follows:

An Act to further amend section five of the act approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 507) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes and in cities coextensive with counties for city and county purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property providing for the assessment and collection of the same providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes" as heretofore amended providing for the more efficient assessment of property and collection of taxes interest and penalties in cases of the refusal or failure of taxables to make return and in the case of false or incomplete returns

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I think it is only fair to the Senate to say a few words on this bill, although I know we are trying to get through as quickly as possible.

I noticed in this evening's "Bulletin" that the assessors of the personal property tax had reported an excess of nearly a hundred million over that of last year, with a four-mill tax on personal property. This bill is aimed, admittedly, at those who do not pay their four-mill tax unless they have to, and do not make any report.

In 1923 the Legislature passed a bill which is now working so well in Philadelphia County that what I have read from the "Evening Bulletin" was the result of that bill. This Bill, No. 717, is a companion bill and has the endorsement of the Board of Revision of Taxes. In fact, Mr. Fell, President of the Board, wrote the bill. I have a telegram here from them to the effect that the Board of Revision of Taxes in Philadelphia County strongly urge the passage of Senate Bill No. 717.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution, and the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I am not familiar with this bill. If I understand this bill, it exempts the street railway companies from paving that twelve inches outside of the rails. Is that a fact?

I desire to interrogate the Senator from Butler, Mr. Painter.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Butler, Mr. Painter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PAINTER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Butler, Mr. Painter, if this bill exonerates the railway companies from paving the twelve inches outside of the tracks.

Mr. PAINTER. Mr. President, the bill is intended to take care of any future contract.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, does it exonerate the railway companies heerafter from paving the twelve inches outside of the rails?

Mr. PAINTER. Mr. President, it does.

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILL ON THIRD READING POSTPONED FOR THE PRESENT.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 893, (House Bill No. 1281), on third reading, postponed for the present, entitled:

An Act to further amend section seventeen of an act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws, four hundred sixty-eight), entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining the duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats; principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance and repair of said State Highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State Highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State Highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State Highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance and repair of township or county roads and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions, providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State-aid highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State Highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act," by conferring certain additional powers on the Secretary of Highways and providing penalty for injuring or destroying grasses, shrubs, vines and trees within the limits of State Highways, or for placing encroachments on, within, under or over State Highways or State-aid Highways.

Mr. STEELE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 893, (House Bill No. 1281), entitled:

An Act to further amend section seventeen of an act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws, four hundred sixty-eight), entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of Commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats; principal cities and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance and repair of said State Highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State Highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State Highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State Highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance and repair of township or county roads and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions, providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State-aid highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State Highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not effected by provisions of this act," by conferring certain additional powers on the Secretary of Highways and providing penalty for injuring or destroying grasses, shrubs, vines and trees within the limits of State Highways, or for placing encroachments on, within, under or over State Highways or State-aid Highways.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Forestry.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend the bill.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Forestry.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, if there is any special reason for recommitting the bill.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, the particular reason is, I would like to amend the bill.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I am willing that this bill should go over in order, to give the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, time, if necessary, to amend the bill. I do not care to have the bill go back to committee at this time; it is too late in the session. Mr. President, this bill has been agreed upon by all concerned. This bill was drafted by the Secretary of Highways. There was some opposition to the bill from the public service corporations who string their lines along the highways, and that has all been eliminated, and it has been agreed to by the Secretary of Highways together with the persons who are lobbying here for the public service corporations.

I can see no reason why this bill should go back to committee. I am perfectly satisfied to have it go over in order. If the Senator from Monroe desires to bring some amendments in at the present time I am perfectly satisfied.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, would it not be entirely fair to the membership of this Senate if the bill were permitted to go back to the Committee on Forestry for the purpose of offering amendments, and knowing what the amendments are?

I understand they have come to an agreement, and here we offer to make an amendment on third reading and we are not able to obtain unanimous consent. Probably the same objection would exist if the amendments were offered later. If it goes back to committee the amendments can be made, the bill can be reported as amended and agreed upon, and we can proceed in an orderly way.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Public Roads and Highways, the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would like to ask if this bill was not reported from the Committee on Public Roads and Highways.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, it was.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, why should it be recommitted to the Committee on Forestry?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, is the Senator from Lackawanna asking me that question?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I did not make the motion. Why should he ask me that question?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I did not know whether the Senator from Bucks was interested in that or not.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, why does not the Senator from Lackawanna ask the Senator who made the motion?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I would be very pleased.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, his reason for changing the committee.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I think that the proper committee to send it to for the reason that the bill has to do with trimming trees, and therefore has to do with a forestry matter more than with highways.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I am perfectly satisfied to have this bill recommitted to the Committee on Forestry if it is for no other reason than to put in the amendments and report the bill out.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, we cannot make any such agreement.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I object to any such conditions.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, may I suggest to the Chairman of the Committee on Forestry, who is by my side, that he will be fair and I will agree that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Forestry.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1019, (House Bill No. 943), on third reading, entitled:

An Act relating to the county treasurer and his clerks in counties of the seventh class fixing the salaries thereof requiring the fees collected thereby to be paid to the county and providing penalties be recommitted to the Committee on New Counties and County Seats.

Mr. CULBERTSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1122, (House Bill No. 917), as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and ninety-eight) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and certain existing and certain new administrative departments boards commissions and officers abolishing combining changing the names of reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards commissions bureaus divisions offices and agencies defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards and commissions fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" further reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof the existing administrative departments a new administrative department to be known as the Department of Revenue and certain existing and certain new administrative boards commissions and officers abolishing changing the names or terms or reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative boards commissions bureaus offices and agencies reorganizing the Department of Internal Affairs modifying the powers and duties of the Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers and of certain administrative departments boards and commissions and defining the powers and duties of certain existing and certain new administrative departments boards commissions and officers increasing the salaries of certain executive and administrative officers and providing for the appointment of and fixing the compensation of or prescribing the manner in which compensation shall be fixed for certain additional administrative officers and of and for the deputies and other assistants and employes in the Department of Internal Affairs the Department of Revenue and in certain existing and certain new administrative boards and commissions

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 1164, (House Bill No. 1713), on third reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing the corporate authorities of any county city borough township school district or other municipality or incorporated district to supplement an increase of indebtedness authorized for the purpose of erecting public buildings

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, if his motion to recommit is for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, it is.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I would like to ask him if the amendments are prepared.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, no, they are not. I know what they should be, however.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, due to the fact that legislation has to be passed very rapidly or be defeated, I would ask that the bill go over in its order, and it can be amended by unanimous consent tomorrow if the Senator from Monroe so wishes.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, that will be perfectly satisfactory, and with the consent of the seconder I withdraw my motion.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I withdraw my second.

In the Senate, April 11, 1927.

Whereas, The Government of the United States has established, and is maintaining certain summer training camps known as Citizens' Military Training Camps; and

Whereas, The object of these training camps is to bring together annually, for a month's training, the best representative young American citizens from all sections of the Nation; to give them the basis of military instruction and that physical and moral development that will fit them to become influential leaders in their respective communities in times of peace and leaders for National defense in time of war; to inculcate a stronger patriotism and a wholesome respect for discipline and obedience to constituted authority; above all, to teach the young men of this generation their serious duties, responsibilities, and obligations to home and country; and

Whereas, No less than eight of such camps are available to properly qualified young men of this Commonwealth for a period of one month of the ensuing summer without cost; and

Whereas, This Commonwealth and its citizens have been ever in the forefront in great patriotic movements of this nature; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania does hereby indorse the purposes of the citizens' military training camps.

Resolved, That the young men of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are hereby urged to avail themselves of the privileges extended them through such training camps, to the end that they may thereby become more useful citizens of this Commonwealth and Nation in times of peace and war.

NAYS—0.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 769, (House Bill No. 1171), entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the seventh day of April, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 51), entitled "An act providing for the protection of the public health and the prevention of fraud and deception, by prohibiting the sale, the offering for sale or exposing for sale, or the having in possession with intent to sell, of adulterated or deleterious sausage; defining sausage; and prescribing the penalty for the violation thereof," including powdered skimmed milk among permissive ingredients in sausage.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, as I understand, this is a bill permitting the adulteration of sausage by the adding to that article of food skimmed milk in powder form. I understand that it is an adulterant and it is objected to by the country districts, where sausage is largely made. I understand further that if this bill passes it will permit the use of powdered skim milk in sausage which is placed there for the purpose of defrauding the public to the extent that it absorbs the water in the sausage, and therefore people are deceived in the amount of sausage they are buying. I hope that this bill will not pass, and in order to raise the question, I move that it be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for the purpose of further consideration.

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, if the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will be good enough to withhold his motion for just a minute or two, I would like to say a word in explanation of the bill itself, after which I have no objection to his renewing the motion.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I will withdraw the motion for the present.

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, the Senator from Bucks is laboring under somewhat of a misapprehension as to the purpose and nature of this bill. It is true that this bill would permit the use of powdered skim milk in sausage but that is already allowed by Federal regulation and this bill would simply allow the state law to conform with an already existing Federal law.

Furthermore, deception cannot be practiced on the public because under the Federal regulation when powdered skim milk is used in the sausage it must be so stamped, so that if the Senator from Bucks does not want powdered skim milk in his sausage, he may look at the label and see what he is getting. We had a hearing on this subject at which it was discussed on both sides and they were unable to find any good reason why the bill should not be reported out.

This afternoon, in conversation with a representative of the Pure Food Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture, he informed me that he had no real objection to offer to this measure. Therefore, inasmuch as the Committee has carefully considered it and has reported the bill out, I trust that it will not be recommitted for the purpose of being interred, but will be voted upon one way or the other here on the floor of this Senate.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Lebanon.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Lebanon, Mr. Freeman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Lebanon, Mr. Freeman, what reason there is for putting skim milk in sausage other than to absorb the moisture and add to it real weight?

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, the weight cannot be materially altered because the water contents is already regulated by the Federal law.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Lebanon if the purpose of that skim milk in sausage is not to absorb the water and keep it from drying out?

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, I do not think so.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator further what advantage there is in adding powdered skim milk to sausage, which is a meat product?

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, it is said by those who favor the bill that it makes a nicer looking sausage and a better article.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate further the Senator from Lebanon, Mr. Freeman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Lebanon, Mr. Freeman, permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Lebanon how it adds to the appearance of the sausage?

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, I am not an expert on this subject, so I cannot answer the Senator from Bucks on that particular point.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I still feel that this is a dangerous bill and an unnecessary bill. It is a bill to add an adulterant to a purely meat product, which is not necessary and should not be permitted; and I am further of the opinion that it will serve no good purpose by putting something into sausage which will absorb the water and make it weigh more than it really does.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL.

I now renew my motion to recommit the bill to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

A division being called for 18 Senators voted in the affirmative and 22 in the negative, whereupon, the question was decided in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Lebanon, Mr. Freeman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Lebanon, Mr. Freeman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, if it is true, as the Senator from Lebanon states, that this is already permissible under the Federal Law, why is it necessary to add a law in Pennsylvania on the subject?

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, because the Pennsylvania law conflicts with the Federal law in that under the present Pennsylvania law powdered skim milk is not permitted and it is permitted under the Federal law.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, then it is not correct that it is already the law in Pennsylvania by virtue of the fact that there is a Federal statute, but is still prohibited in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I would like to know whether the members of this body believe that the people of Pennsylvania now want powdered skim milk in their sausages? If we want powdered skim milk, we can use it in a dozen forms, but when we want sausage we want sausage. It is a meat product, pork and beef, that is what we mean by sausage, and if the Lebanon bolognas have now been converted into skim milk products, I am glad for one to know it, and I am sure that the people of Pennsylvania do not want any law permitting sausage to be made out of powdered skim milk. We are skimmed enough, some of the things that we do buy for food and for the table and if it is true that there is a Federal statute which would fully cover the subject so far as interstate commerce is concerned, it is bad enough, and I trust the Legislature of Pennsylvania will not also pass this so far as the manufacture of sausage and sale of sausage strictly within the borders of Pennsylvania is concerned. Putting stamps on is simply a subterfuge. Stamping sausages! How many people when they go to the meat market or to the store to buy sausages first examine the stamp? That is nothing but camouflage and I certainly agree with the Senator from Bucks and I trust that we are not going to put upon the statute books of Pennsylvania permission to anybody to make sausages out of powdered skim milk.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. President, I took this matter up at home and much to my surprise it is only intended to be used in smoked sausages. I was told that they could not use it in excess of two pounds of powdered milk to one hundred pounds of sausage and it was only intended for the smoked product, that it would not keep and could not be used in fresh sausage. Also that the substitute that could be used, and there is no law to prevent it, was powdered crackers. So in voting for this bill we are voting for powdered skim milk, which to my mind, is not injurious.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Which was committed to the Committee on New Counties and County Seats.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 867, (House Bill No. 426), entitled

An Act relating to search warrants regulating their issuance execution and return prescribing the powers and duties of justices of the peace aldermen and magistrates issuing them and of officers executing them inflicting penalties for unlawfully procuring unlawfully executing and unlawfully resisting the execution of a search warrant

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STEELE. Mr. President, this is Senate Bill 867, the bill known as the search and seizure bill. It seems to me that this is a very objectionable bill. The head of one of the police departments in my district spoke to me in reference particularly to the next to the last section of this bill which reads: "Any officer who in executing a search warrant willfully exceeds his authority or exercises it with unnecessary severity shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars or be imprisoned not more than one year or both".

Mr. President, I submit that in this generation the honest police officer has sufficient problems on his hands in trying to reasonably enforce the laws of the Commonwealth without our passing legislation that will make his position much more difficult, and indeed legislation like this will be tending to discourage all honest police officers. Who should judge as to what is unnecessary severity? Should a police officer be placed in the position where he is obliged to defend himself carrying out the law that he is trying to enforce in good faith for the Commonwealth? It seems to me that whatever may be good in this bill is more than counterbalanced by this Section 16. This bill certainly should not be enacted into law, and I hope that the Senators will defeat it.

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. President, I desire to say a word or two on this bill. In examining the bill the first thought that occurred to me, the first question that I have heard here at different times with regard to penal statutes and the first thought that occurred to me was, what is the old law? And the second, what is the trouble with the old law? And the third, what is the remedy for both?

Upon examination of this bill, and all the information I have been able to gather on the subject, I do not know what is being sought after here, or where the law at the present time fails. There are some parts of the bill, for instance the first part, is practically the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania, but there are some parts of it I want to call attention to that seem to me to be objectionable.

When you turn to Section 12 of the bill,—before I take that up I want to say further that this bill applies to all kinds of search warrants. Now I have before me the report of the Crimes Committee of the Law Association of Philadelphia and in this they outline the number of statutes that are in use in Pennsylvania authorizing the use of search warrants

By the first, in 1860, provision is made for search and seizure of stolen goods. The next is for the seizure of gambling instruments and for the search of premises of those suspected of having in their possession some mineral water bottles, also providing for the seizure of indecent literature, also authorizing a search warrant to search in buildings where it is suspected an act of cruelty to animals has been committed, also authorizing the search and seizure of articles to procure abortion, and by the Act of 1923 authorizing search for liquor.

This act is so general in its terms that it applies to every classification I have just mentioned. You will bear in mind that it covers the larceny of stolen goods, and bear in mind when I read Section 12, that "If it appears that the property taken is not the same as that described in the warrant, or that there is no probable cause for believing the existence of the grounds on which the warrant was issued, the Justice of the Peace, Alderman or Magistrate must cause it to be restored to the person from whom it was taken, but if it appears that the property taken is the same as that described in the warrant and that there is probable cause for believing the existence of the grounds on which the warrant was issued, then the Justice of the Peace, Alderman or Magistrate shall order the same retained in the custody of the person seizing it or to be otherwise disposed of according to law."

Now that seems to be the return that the officer makes after making search, no matter how many stolen articles may be in the possession of the person searched or the premises searched; and the other cases mentioned in this article, the goods not described in the warrant must be returned.

Again, this Act also creates two new offenses, the first in Section 15 of the Act, which is as follows: "Any person who maliciously and without probable cause procures a search warrant to be issued and executed shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on condition thereof, shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars or be imprisoned not more than one year, or both."

The first thought is, "the person who maliciously." Now, what person is going to make an affidavit and go through the formality that is required by this Act, or any of the Acts that authorize a search warrant, that does not have some element of malice? And because the law has been violated in the manner of the seizure of the goods, you want to get them back, you certainly do not have very charitable feelings toward him; so that any man who makes the affidavit, to my mind, would be guilty of this offense.

The next question is, "without probable cause." That is passed upon by the justice of the peace and magistrate when the warrant is issued. Yet no matter what may happen, the person who goes before a magistrate subjects himself to the charge of misdemeanor because he tries to enforce the law and bring the wrongdoer to justice.

I want to say further, with regard to Section 15, which Senator Steele mentioned, there is even something more there than what has been mentioned. It says this: "Any officer who, in executing a search warrant, wilfully exceeds his authority." I cannot understand what that means, "wilfully exceeds his authority." I do not know what that means, and I do not know whether there is anyone here who can tell me.

I want to call your attention further, "or exercises it with unnecessary severity, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor." Now, what is severity in executing a warrant upon a search for property? What does that mean? It recognizes some severity must be exercised. Now, what severity does it mean? It might mean in the event of a person being searched, and I cannot understand why that would be possible. Now then, "unnecessary severity,"—what is meant by "unnecessary severity"? The thought is so uncertain that it would be an impossibility to get any person to execute a search warrant, any kind of search warrant that is authorized by the State; and the man who serves that warrant puts himself in the position that a person who thinks he is wrong will go to the magistrate and swear out a warrant to arrest the officer, who has been trying to perform his duty.

This Act has been called a troublemaker, and it seems to me it is much more than that. I think it is a bill which would render the enforcement of proper laws uncertain because it seems to throw around the individual, the man who does wrong, a protection, for some reason or other; and I think, therefore, that what we need is not a law to protect the wrongdoer, but we need some protection for the officers who are trying to enforce that law. I therefore think this bill is wrong and should be defeated.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Franklin, Mr. Bonbrake.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Franklin, Mr. Bonbrake, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BONBRAKE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Franklin, Mr. Bonbrake, his purpose in asking that this bill go over in its order.

Mr. BONBRAKE. Mr. President, in order that the bill may be more fully considered.

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, I want to state that these bills were fully considered by the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation. They had several hearings, on the bill, and it seems to me that they should be called up tomorrow. I would not like to see them go over indefinitely; it would not be the right thing to do. There is nothing in these bills that any person would object to. I think that this is a very good bill. If Senator Bonbrake intends to offer an amendment I would be perfectly satisfied.

Mr. BONBRAKE.. Mr. President, had it been my desire to kill the bill I would have moved to have it recommitted to committee. I simply ask that it go over in order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I am not satisfied with the action of the Senate at this time. I do not propose to let the House do things that we can do over here. Before I vote on this bill I would ask the sponsor of the bill to explain the bill to the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Butler, Mr. Painter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PAINTER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I ask that the Senator from Butler, Mr. Painter, explain this bill so that the Senate can vote intelligently on it.

Mr. PAINTER. Mr. President, the purpose of the sponsor of this bill was to help some street-car companies in cities of the third class, and especially in the third class cities of the kind that he represents, to be able to maintain its service that it has given to the City of Butler. The City of Butler had a contract of long duration with the street-car company, and the street-car company was not able to continue operating its lines under the contract. They came before the city and asked for a change of the contract, which in substance is the same as embodied in this bill. As I understand the bill it will have no effect whatever upon any existing contract, but it will have as to any future contracts that are made regarding the maintenance of the street-car line.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate further the Senator from Butler, Mr. Painter.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Butler, Mr. Painter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PAINTER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, the Senator says this applies to third-class cities only.

Mr. PAINTER. Mr. President, no, I did not so say,—I did not intent to, at least.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, as a matter of fact, this bill applies to all cities, municipalities and counties. The great trouble on the highways today is between the tracks. The Public Works Departments, of the several cities, will pave on the side of the road but in the middle of the tract they do not. Now, the street-car company comes along here and wants to be exonerated from this work. I think it is a very unfair proposition for each municipality to ask for that, after getting the franchise practically for nothing and then coming in and asking the city to pave the road between the tracks and twelve inches outside. I think it is very unfair for Butler corporations to ask for such a measure. I think the Senate ought to vote this down.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I am of the same opinion that my friend, Senator Davis, is; but there is no contract in existance between the municipalities, townships or boroughs that can be affected by this Act. The situation is very simple. The problem can be worked out on the basis of that twelve inches on each side, and when they come to place in position and renew their tracks, their ties and the base between the tracks, that twelve inches naturally comes within the next proposition, between the twelve inches and the curb, which the city must maintain.

In the city of Pittsburgh, after years of controversy, they have entered into an agreement with the Pittsburgh Traction Company, and under the conditions the city does the work and the traction company pays the bill. But if the traction company would have to take care of their end and leave the city's undone, as often happens, there would be at a distance of twelve inches a bad portion of the street on each side of the tracks.

Now we come into the trouble of trying to avoid the conflict between the contracts now in existence and the future. You cannot violate the contracts with the traction companies that are now in existence, and they have to pave between the tracks and twelve inches outside; and if they draw into it the boroughs or the cities, then they come to a position that they can pave to that distance from the curb-line, and it puts them in a position to maintain their end, so that if the city does not join with them at the same that surface will be in bad condition.

I want to say to you frankly that I would never vote to take away any of the contracts now in existence with the traction companies. They are perpetuating a franchise and they do not pay enough, but we are trying to place them in a position that when the paving is done it will be done in a uniform way and not done by the traction company in the middle of street and the city then on the side neglect that part or likewise the city coming along within twelve inches of the outside rail and doing their part and the traction company not doing its part.

Now this is trying to bring about a uniform piece of legislation with the traction companies and the municipalities, so that they can work together, that is the only purpose I have; and I think there is just as much ability to guide them in the House as there is in the Senate. If they do not approve this remedial legislation for the benefit of not only the municipalities but also for the benefit of the traction companies, I think that the House committee, when they consider it over there, can properly look after the matter.

I trust that the members will understand it. It is not a question of responsibility at all; but it is a question of allowing those who understand this measure to explain the matter. We are not trying to invalidate any contract that they have with the municipalities but to place them in the position that when the work is done it will be done uniformly and the streets will be paved between the tracks, and the balance between the tracks and the curb will be made uniform and will be in a proper condition.

Mr. DAVIS. I do not know what they do in Pittsburgh, but I have the honor of representing a second-class city and a third-class city; and I know that the traction companies are obliged to repair their roads twelve inches outside of the rails as well as inside of the rails. If we pass this bill it will exonerate those companies from paving twelve inches outside of the rails as well as the space inside of the rails.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I was under the same impression, but to give you an example, two tracks on the street, paved inside and twelve inches on the outside, and the city has not made any provision to pave on the same condition from there to the curb. There is the condition,—we come along to the proposition that the city wants to repave, the city paves up to the rail and charges them for the twelve inches; and the traction company is bound to come along and, under the ordinance of today, put twelve inches of concrete foundation under the tracks and it is only trying to make a uniform street so that it may work out successfully in the interest of the people.

Mr. EARNEST. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EARNEST. Mr. President, I voted "no" on this bill. Do I understand that if it is passed here there will be a hearing in the House?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, there will be a hearing tomorrow.

Mr. EARNEST. Mr. President, then I am ready to vote "aye".

Mr. WEINGARTNER. Mr. President, I have listened with considerable interest to the remarks against this bill. As I understand this situation today the matter is taken care of locally, it is taken care of by contracts entered into b- ordinances passed by the various cities. I know that is true in our city. It is also true that the traction company is required, when they go to repaving the street, to pave the street on which its lines are,—today it is required to put the necessary concreting in the space that lies in between its railroad, and pave a foot on each side of it. It is required to meet the ordinance prepared by the city in that respect.

Mr. President, It seems to me that the only thing that is accomplished by this bill is to permit the traction company to get out from under the requirement to pave between its tracks and the foot on each side of them. If, as the sponsor of the bill has stated, this bill does not affect any contract in existence, I cannot see how it can give any relief to the city of Butler, which he has said has a contract in existence. In our city there is no paving, the city does not pave up to within a foot or two of the tracks, and then the traction company at some other time paved between the tracks and a foot on each side.

Mr. President, it seems to me that this matter having run on for years and years, since the organization of street car companies, local matters were under the control of the councils and mayors. However, we ought not to change this thing at this time. I think if in the city of Butler's traction company is in bad financial condition and cannot run its lines and meet this paving, I think the thing for the traction company to do would be to make its appeal and plea to the council and the mayor of the City of Butler, and let us alone. In my city of New Castle, to carry out the plan as we have arranged and not make any hard and fast rule on every city and borough and township in this Commonwealth; and I, therefore, cannot vote for this bill.

Mr. PAINTER. Mr. President, in order to answer the Senator from Lawrence, Mr. Weingartner, I would suggest that the bill takes care of the street paving in section 3, where a corporation refuses or objects to pay for the repaving, that the borough or the city shall pay and charge the expense in addition to the cost.

As far as the cost of the paving between the tracks is concerned, we should take into consideration that many years ago the cars were drawn either by horses or mules in a majority of cases, and the paving between the tracks was used and worn out by the corporation. Today, and for many years back, they have not been drawing cars by the use of horses but by electricity. Therefore, the corporation has no use for the small portion of the paving between the tracks; and, on the other hand, they made their contract in such a way that it provides that the rails shall be laid below the surface of the paving, and those who drive automobiles over the street between the tracks know well what that means.

Now, the fundamental purpose of this bill was to have a uniform and smooth surface of the street. The city uses the portion of the street between the tracks and the owners of the car lines do not use that, and they should therefore not be made to pay for the paving of the portion of the street they do not use. They are required to put a base in for their paving that is uniform with the base that is used by the city, and have a uniform level and smooth track. They pay for the putting in of the base, and in doing that they are paying for more than paving the street that they took and should not be required to pay for more than what they use.

Mr. President, we must also remember that the system of requiring street-car companies to pay for a foot outside of the tracks was first established when we d'd not have the automobiles that we have today, and when the street cars used the major portion of the street; but since the times have changed,—and most every Senator here, I believe, will bear me out in the statement that there are very few street-car companies that are keeping square today in their work, and that the time has come when they should not be required to take care of a thing that they no longer use.

So far as the street-car company is concerned, we did relieve them of that responsibility just about the time this bill was introduced, possibly on March the 4th. We relieved them of the contract that required them to pave sixteen inches on either side of their tracks and between th tracks. They have done that until they can no longer maintain the street-car company and pay the bill, and they came before council and asked to have the contract rescinded. So I repeat, if this bill becomes a law it will not invalidate any existing contract, but it would apply only to contracts which are made in the future. We therefore think it is a safe and sane bill.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, there seems to be a wide difference of opinion on the merits of this bill, and inasmuch as we are pressed for time it would be unjust to defeat this bill without a hearing. It is a very important piece of legislation, and Senator Leslie has said we can have a hearing on this bill tomorrow, when all the facts can be presented in a clear and logical way. I think this discussion tonight is rather hurried. It is difficult to hear the facts at this time, and it would only be the fair thing to pass this bill tonight, have the hearing tomorrow, and if there is anything found that is bad in this bill, it can be defeated in the House; and still farther on, if it is found yet to be bad, I am sure the good Governor of the State will veto it; so I think it would be fair to pass this bill tonight and have the hearing on it tomorrow.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I disagree with the conclusion arrived at by the Senator from Butler, that this bill will not invalidate the contracts now in existence between the boroughs and the cities, on the one hand, and the trolley companies on the other. I think, on the contrary, it does just that thing. I think the bill is designed to do that thing. It is designed to relieve obligations already executed. This is the same bill that has been before this body for the last six years, dressed up a little different. The bill as presented for the purpose of allowing the municipalities to make the streets uniform is a good one, but they are to be made uniform at the expense of the municipalities. That is the design of the bill, it is very plain. It affects the contracts existing and all future contracts. The railway companies are to be required to fix a base and nothing more. I trust that once more the Senate will not consent to rely upon the House to kill a bill that ought to be killed right here on the floor.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I ask the indulgence of the Senate for just a moment. The purpose and intent of this bill is honest. I do not want to be making reference to the city of Pittsburgh again, and the necessary amount of money that it costs to repair the streets, but I do wish to make reference to this: The street-car companies are spending more money than the city is spending, and that is caused by the extraordinary weight of the street-cars and particularly the interurban cars. And when it comes to the proposition, they have to put in the base,—by base I mean the concrete base,—we have a number of instances, running for miles, where they do all of their work and put in the foundation, put in new ties, new rails and everything—to comply with their contract under the ordinance that put them in existence. Then comes the city's part. It begins at that point and naturally there is a certain level from the tracks to the curbs for drainage purposes and we finally came to an agreement that we practically would do all the work and the traction company pay for it. That is by contract, as Senator Painter has said, ten per cent. plus, but I do not think there is any plus in it but it is actual cost, and they pay for that foot on the outside and between the tracks the same as it cost the city for that foot and down to the curb.

The conditions to-day cannot be compared with fifteen years ago, let alone twenty-five years ago. The streets are not built now with a broken stone base, they are built on a concrete base. It was first six inches, then increased to eight inches, then ten inches, and then up as high as sixteen inches—all concrete. To maintain that the street companies have to pay every penny under the contract and the ordinance under which they were granted the franchise. This bill will not relieve anybody and there is no possible chance, under any condition other than a violation of their contract, that it can relieve anybody. No Act of Assembly can take away from any municipality any contract made with that municipality for a certain franchise.

I only ask that this bill be given consideration. I have confidence in the House, otherwise I would not ask that this bill be sent over there. I ask this Senate to have the same confidence in the integrity of the people who are interested in this bill and who will explain it in the House, which is the other branch of this legislative body. They will take care of it if there is anything in it that is wrong. I appeal to the Senate to pass the bill and leave it to the House for a hearing to-morrow.

Mr. MacDADE. Mr. President and members of the Senate. When this bill was considered this afternoon I voted "no", and inasmuch as the vote has been reconsidered and we have to vote again upon this measure I desire to get myself upon the record, so that the people back home may know just what I have done here.

You may not realize the fact, but I do, that in the county of Delaware adjoining the county of Philadelphia, we have more or less litigation over the subject now being discussed, in that the numerous boroughs in the county of Delaware have had the matter litigated in the Supreme Court and the Supreme Court has decided that those obligations are sacred, these municipalities granting franchises to railway companies and the railway companies receiving a consideration for taking over these highways. They have taken them over and have eliminated other railway companies who wanted similar rights and it was found out afterwards that the Supreme Court had decided that the municipalities were entitled to recover for the repairs that they were obliged to make on their own initiative, because the railway companies would not fulfill the obligations to which you refer and make the necessary repairs and were keeping our highways in bad condition. Then an appeal was made to the Public Service Commission and they decided that they had no jurisdiction over these franchises because they were contracts entered into before the Public Service Commission Act was passed.

I know the history of this bill and the other bill that was introduced, and our county to-day is afire with indignation at this bill before this legislative body. In the city of Chester the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company was performing the obligation that it entered into by reason of this franchise from the city of Chester, and the Director of Public Safety is now on the point of abrogating the right-of-way against them until they fulfill the obligation that they entered into solemnly with the city of Chester and the city of Chester gave them this valuable franchise.

This is an effort to get from under and it is not fair to the municipalities we represent. It is not only the third class cities, but every borough, every first and second class township, every city of the second and first class. Obligations have been entered into by the city of Philadelphia with the Rapid Transit Company whereby the latter company contributes to the treasury of the City of Philadelphia so much money for the repairs of the street. Is there anything in this bill that requires public service companies to make a contribution to the treasury of the municipalities and to make necessary repairs of the highway? It has been decided by the Supreme Court that the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company is obliged to repair and repave in the borough of Swarthmore where they had an obligation to keep in repair the entire width of an avenue. The Supreme Court said that that contract had to be enforced. What was the result? There was a compromise with the borough of Swarthmore and a sum of money was paid into the treasury of the borough to be released from the contract.

Why should we take a chance by passing this legislation, which is dubious in its terms? I care not what explanation may be made by the Senators upon the floor, this proposed Act of Assembly would not do just exactly as they think if it were enacted into law. It would affect the very portals of our boroughs as far as the highway is concerned. Our city and county are unanimously against the bill, and for that reason alone I vote against it and hope it will be defeated.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 1299, (House Bill No. 1289), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend paragraph one of section one of the act, approved the eighth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws, one hundred and ninety-one), entitled "An act establishing certain public roads as State highways; and providing for their construction and maintenance at the expense of the Commonwealth," by providing that the routes therein established as State highways may be constructed and maintained under the provisions of present or future laws governing State highways.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I shall be glad to explain the bill if the Senator wants an explanation of it.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, there is an agreement to get up an amendment.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, who made the agreement?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I have talked to some of the Senators in regard to this bill; and the amendments pertaining to the Act of 1895, known as the Omnibus Bill, has the effect of putting back upon the counties and townships the roads therein contained, and it was thought, in order to obviate the objection, that there should be inserted in here "roads to be built at the sole expense of the Commonwealth," with the proviso that any township, borough or incorporated town may contribute to the road in the same way as to other roads which are now on the State Highway System." In a discussion of this bill with Mr. Shelly it was stated by him that he had no objection to such an amendment.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, this suggests what I had in my mind during this whole session; that if the departments,—not referring to the Highway Department,—would consult the members of the Legislature about the legislation before us we would get along a great deal better. They go and make agreements and they do not consult the Legislature. I desire to call their attention to the fact the Legislature makes the laws, and it is the duty of the different departments to carry out the laws passed by the Legislature. I do not know whether there is any objection to this amendment or not, but I certainly, as Chairman of the Committee on Public Roads and Highways, have not agreed to it. It may be that it is a good amendment. It may be that if the Senator has an amendment and will submit it to me I will be very glad to offer that amendment later in the evening. I do not think that it is a bill which ought to be held up in this way.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1293, (House Bill No. 1292), on third reading, entitled:

An Act relating to fires and fire prevention; imposing duties, and conferring powers upon the State Police; authorizing the appointment of the chiefs of fire departments and certain public officers and others as assistants to said State Police, and defining their powers and duties; providing for the investigation of the cause, origin, and circumstance of fires, and the inspection of all and the removal or change of certain buildings; imposing duties on school authorities, and on certain corporations, associations, and fire rating agencies; providing for the attendance of witnesses before the said State Police, and the enforcement of its orders; and prescribing penalties.

be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 1437, (House Bill No. 1438), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Board of Trustees of the Torrance State Hospital

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1439, (House Bill No. 978), entitled:

An Act to amend sections two hundred and twenty and two hundred and twenty-five of an act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 448) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" increasing the resident fishing license fee and making the county treasurer the agent of the Commonwealth in the collection of license fees

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, here we have another tax raiser. This bill increases the fisherman's license from a dollar to a dollar and a half. Last week we had a bill increasing the hunter's license from a dollar and a quarter to two dollars. I know that this bill will raise from three to five hundred thousand dollars a year. What we need that money for is more than I can tell. I do not intend to discuss the bill at any length, but I just want to call it to the attention of the members of the Senate. This bill increases the fisherman's license. I understood at the beginning of this session there were to be no revenue raisers at this session with the exception of the gasoline tax; and here we are, first one and then another one, small in themselves but in the aggregate amounting to large sums of money. I hope that the Senate will vote down this bill.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, it seems to me the Senator from Bucks does not understand this bill. There is great demand all through this state for fish, and nowadays to propagate fish they must have buildings, and the buildings must be properly supplied with men. This bill is intended to raise revenue for the construction of hatcheries. If the people of Pennsylvania want the fish they must vote for a bill of this kind, because we need the money. I think it is a very good bill, and it ought to pass.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—41.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, April 11, 1927.

The House met at 3:00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER, (Thomas Bluett) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. George P. Donehoo, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee this day as we come to the closing days of this session of the Legislature that Thou hast been good to us in preserving our lives, in keeping us in health and in strength. We pray Thee that Thy blessing may be in the home into which the shadow of death has come since we last met together here. We pray Thee that Thou wouldst comfort the hearts of those who have been bereaved and that we may understand as fellow members of the House how much our words of sympathy and our expressions of kindliness in flowers and in letters to those who are bereaved really mean. Give unto all of us the wideness of brotherly sympathy in such hours. Guide us this week in all that we do. Guide the Speaker; may he have Thy presence and Thy wisdom and may this session draw to a close with the same friendliness and lack of bitterness which has been the prevailing spirit of all its days. We ask all these blessings in Thy name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.
